President's View ...

The 106th Infantry Division Association's 59th Annual Reunion will be held in the Doubletree Hotel, New Orleans, La. Early Arrivals will begin Wednesday, August 31, 2005. Registration will commence Thursday, September 1, 2005 with activities concluding with breakfast Sunday, Sept. 4.

Registration forms - schedules of tours, program events and other information will be mailed to each member in mid-Summer.

Reunions have a special meaning for us. You may have many types of reunions. Let me tell you about my "Coffee Club." Originally this was a time to take a 20 minute coffee break at 3:00 PM at our favorite restaurant, "The Bright Star." Just after WWII around 30 attended. Now we average four. We still keep abreast of events in the city, families and breaking news.

Since our family has grown up and scattered to different parts of the South East we have gathered annually for a family reunion. Meeting mostly in and around our home in Hueytown, AL. Once we were joined by my brother-in-law and his family from Oregon and California at a resort on the

Walter G. Bridges President 2004-2005 106th Infantry Division Association "D" Company, 424th Combat Infantry Regiment 225 Laird Avenue, Hueytown, AL 35203 205-491-3409 wgb106@bellsouth.net

Tennessee River and a couple of years we traveled to Sun River, Oregon, to join their family for another reunion. Why do we go to the expense and time? Except at our Reunions our family members lose the closeness of family. These reunions get us back in touch. For about 3 days we are all together catching up on news events, getting acquainted with new members of the family and reliving memories of our history.

Now, we come to our 106th Reunion. I ask you collectively and individually—have you written down your war experiences or have you discussed them with your children, grandchildren or maybe even great grandchildren? Consider bringing one or more of them to the reunion. Some of us may even need their hands to steady our walking.

We veterans of the 106th know our history of training, war games and finally the war itself. These are events we experienced and need to pass on to our children and grandchildren. We are a special group of veterans. We had common causes with millions of Americans to rid Europe of a tyrannical regime, punish Japan for that day of infamy on December 7, 1941, at Pearl Harbor and free the peoples in the Pacific theater.

Our Mini-Reunions fill the need for those who cannot attend the Annual Reunions. There are many reports of this year's Mini-Reunions in this issue of the CUB. Under the direction of the Mini Reunion Committee chaired by Harry Martin, Jr. the movement has grown.

Congratulations to all of you who hold a Mini Reunion in you area. Be sure to attend the next one that is near you. Should you not live close enough attend one or if there is not one in your area, organize one.

At the 59th annual Reunion, talk with Harry Martin or contact him by mail, email or USPS mail. His address appears in the "New Jersey Mini-Reunion" report in this CUB.

Should you be planning to attend the 59th Annual Reunion in New Orleans and need more information, please contact me. Remember, we will be mailing reunion registration papers and information in mid-Summer. We expect a good turnout.

I look forward to spending time with you there.

Walter G. Bridges, President 106th Infantry Division Association

Memorial Day rapidly approaches, a day for remembrance. It's the poets who write most memorably about the pity of war and the duty to remember:

In Psalm 137 the sorrow of the people of Israel is expressed.

Captive far from their homes, their heavy hearts would not allow for joy:

"By the waters of Babylon we sat down and wept, when we remembered thee, O Zion, As for our harps, we hanged them up upon the trees that are therein, For they that led us away captive required of us then a song, and melody, in our heaviness, saying, Sing us one of the songs of Zion. How shall we sing the Lord's song in a strange land ?

If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth." Before World War I, Kipling wrote:

"The tumult and the shouting dies, The Captain and the Kings depart; Still stands the ancient sacrifice, An humble and a contrite heart. Lord God of hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget. Lest we forget."

Just two examples, but poets from many different times and contexts bring the admonition that we must not forget, we must never forget. On the other hand, especially among those who had no personal experience of warfare, comes the instruction to let go of the past, give up clinging to memories of past glory or past tragedy. As if those who "were there" could ever let go of the past. It is a part of us. We, too, say to our countrymen, "Never forget !"

We do not live in the past; we live very much in the present. But the past does live in us. The memories live in us. By honoring the memories of those who died we strengthen our own resolve to work for a world in which all they considered sacred can flourish. And we have learned as few others have learned, that we must rely upon God to "be with us yet," just as He has been with us always.

"Know therefore that the Lord your God is God; he is the faithful God, keeping his covenant of love to a thousand generations of those who love him and keep his command." - Deut. 7:9

LIFE PLUS CLUB REPORT

I must thank each of you personally at the next reunion.

You have been gracious and very complimentary of both John Kline and me with your notes accompanying the donations you sent.

We now have a total of 80 members who have contributed over $5,000 and they should be proud of that. I still haven't heard from about 600 other LIFE MEMBERS, so get out your checkbook and help the CUB.

Our average contribution is $68.00.

Let's try to improve that average. Again thanks for your contributions.

RE: Mini - Reunions

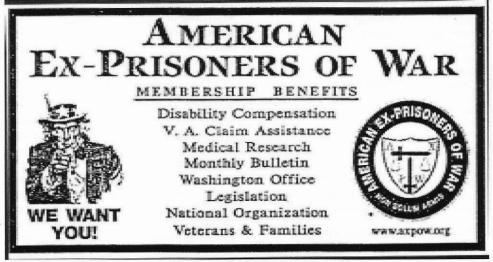

A considerable portion of this issue is filled with reports of Mini-Reunions held in various parts of the country.

It is wonderful to see that these "reunions" continue to draw many comrades and families together..

As we get older travel gets more difficult and we must keep these local reunions alive. If you have not attended one, please consider doing so. You will go home feeling great that you met with those that you laid your life on the line with 60 years ago. Contact the organizer of your local reunion. Their name and address appear under the caption of each Mini-Reunion report.

If there are none nearby, consider sponsoring one. Call or write the editor of this magazine and he will send you mailing labels for your invitations.

From the Association Historian

John R. Schaffner 589/A, Historian 1611 Miller Road, Cockeysville, MD 21030 410-584-2754 pumexim@bcpl.net

From the Historian : Some years ago I had been heard to say, "I was never interested in history until I became a part of it."

Well, now at age 80, I consider myself as history, and my interest in the subject has at last developed. A good number of you veterans reading this have now acquired, and are using, personal computers. I dare say that your children, and most assuredly. your grandchildren, find the personal computer (PC) an integral part of their every-day life. Let us say, indispensable. This brings me to the subject for this issue of The Cub.

Jim West (Associate Member) has succeeded in copying all of the previously issued Cub magazines to compact disks (CDs.) Once we examine the preliminary production, and make sure all is well, the disks will be offered for sale at a nominal price yet to be determined. As you all realize, the Cub magazine is the history of the 106th Infantry Division. Anyone owning these disks (and a capable PC) will be able to access any issue and read The Cub (or print it) from his computer screen. This is a real simple way for you to pass on the history of our Division to your family. If you are not "computer literate," you can bet the farm that your grandkids are.

So often we hear from someone's child or grandchild, "He never talked about it and now we just don't know ..." This will be your chance to pass it on without actually "talking about it."

Stay tuned, that's not all. If we are successful with this project we will be offering a CD or CDs containing those personal memoirs that your Historian has collected. Many of these stories are already available to a PC user by accessing them on the World Wide Web at the 106th infantry Division's website, http://www.mm.com/user/jpk maintained by John Kline, Cub Editor, and the website maintained by Associate Jim West, www.indianamilitary.org.

All of you PC users should be familiar with this source of our Division's history. Let's all work to keep it alive. JRS (Editor's Note)

Daughter of 106th Vet -81st Combat Engineers, "C" Company.

I would like to send "Special Thanks" to John Kline, 106th Infantry Division Association and Gus Agostini, 81st Combat Engineers Battalion, "A: Company for helping to get my research started. Thanks also to Fred Carr. Robert Flick, Frank Sziber and John Gallagher all of 81/C for their assistance. Special appreciation is extended to Mrs. Nell LeTellier, wife of Louis LeTellier [81/C] for her thoughtfulness and direction. These people have been so kind and invaluable in my search to locate information my father's military service. Dad's military records were, like many others, destroyed in a fire at St. Louis over thirty years ago and all I had to start with were a few old photos. I didn't ask dad many questions about WWII before he passed away – and I deeply regret that!

Dad was inducted 29 January 1943. Basic Training at Camp Swift, Texas, ASTP at Vanderbilt University from July 43 – Mar 44. He was transferred to "C" Company, 81st Combat Engineers at Camp Atterbury on 28 March 1944. With the help of those already mentioned, and others, I've learned so much about when and how they made their way to Europe and the "Battle of the Bulge" in the Ardennes.

Dad left the Army in November 1945 and returned to Kansas City, Missouri. He worked for John Deer for 45 years and retired as a Warehouse Superintendent. He is, today, survived by the love of his life, his wife Judith, two daughters and three grandchildren (two who were born after his death). Dad went home to the lord in 1991 following a terrible fight with lung cancer.

As an old newspaper clipping from Columbia, South Carolina said – regarding the inactivation of the 106th

"We pay tribute to this division's valor, say a silent prayer for those of its number who gave their all, and think of those who so long as they live shall bear wounds and suffer from the effects of the fury of battle. The 106th shall not be forgotten. It's record is a glorious page in American history."

My family and I can only echo those sentiments.

We thank you (and your families) for the service, dedication to duty, and devotion to each other. May God bless each of you. (If you have any additional information regarding my father, I would like to hear from you.) Sincerely Jean Norris Key.

THE HAND NOT GIVEN

by Robert Niner, 590 FAB/HQ

A personal accounting of the English bombing of the POW trains in the Diez/Limburg Rail Yards outside Stalag 12-A on the 23 December, 1944

The mists of memory now shroud my experiences in the last days of the battle and what followed.

Only later did I learn that my personal disaster was called "The Battle of the Bulge". What remains of this early scar, inflicted in the young days of life, overlaid now with other hurts as severe and deep, acquired in the subsequent thirty-five years of living and surviving.

My division—the l06th—was at the very point of the massive enemy assault in the Ardennes Forest. Retreat or withdrawal was cut off. A break-through effort by our infantry was tried and failed. We then went forward in the direction of the West Wall to escape enemy pressure. Once again, we tried going back towards our lines.

At one moment, our artillery vehicles were drawn up in a circle, frontier style.

We proceeded to move out. Going through a valley, shells began to pour in on us. A brave 105 mm gun crew set up, tried to reply, and was silenced by a hit.

After half an hour of mortar fire and shelling by 88mm anti-aircraft by the Germans, there was a shattering cry. ""Every man for himself" still echoes chillingly, carrying the message of aloneness and abandonment in the face of imminent destruction. A panoramic view flashes before me as I see hundreds of us, trapped, bewildered, defenseless...the release of captured German prisoners running back to their lines screaming for a halt in the firing until they were safe...my helmet flying from my head as face and body are pressed into the earth, seeking safety as shrapnel pours merciless hell, sharing the very ground sought as a haven...

"Medic! Medic" is screamed out from those unfortunates already hit, and their pitiful cries still reverberate and chill me!

There was a brief respite from the shelling. White rags appear from nowhere...a panicked oozing of a line of our men, growing from a trickle into a heavy flow, moving towards the enemy lines. The invisible foe loosens briefly the ring of steel to gather the harvest of the stampeded and defeated American troops.

We were set down in a field, grouped then into long lines, and sent on a wandering, interminable march. We passed the Dragon's Teeth and anti-tank traps and block houses that were part of the Siegfried Line. We marched through Pruem, a dead city, battered and broken. Even now, incredibly, I recall the beauty of the hills and streams. Wearily putting one foot in front of the other, exhausted, we continued on. There could be no dropping out.

Fantasy and reality interchanged places, and I still see the image of a German soldier, dead and frozen, sitting upright on his motorcycle.

At the railroad siding, a long train of cattle cars awaited. The loading of the dispirited prisoners began. Willie calls out, "Let's get on this box car". Dan says, "Let's get on the next one!"

Still I see short Willie.

Clearer is the earlier image of him with a bandage around his head. Willie had been waylaid in Scully Square in Boston while on our last leave from the port of embarkation, Camp Myles Standish. He had been beaten and concussed, and he missed sailing with us on the USS Wakefield, our troop ship. He joined us later in England.

Dan was tall, spare, quiet spoken. For whatever reason—or none—I walked to the next cattle car, separating from Willie, accompanying Dan.

The stench of the manure-laden straw on the floor of the cattle car is smelled no more. Did we really pass three days without water or food? At last, relief!

The delight of swallowing the icy cold wetness when the locked door opened at a siding! Our thirst-tortured bodies this slight but needed succor. The damp and metallic feel of the helmet full of water as it was passed from hand to hand! The urgent press of others' demands on the lucky ones who had first received the helmet! "That's enough! Pass it on!" was the repeated cry. Our thirst unsatisfied, take one more swallow, and the precious gift was handed on. The drink was not nearly enough, not nearly long enough, but the container was given up to be fairly shared. Each of us received a couple of hard crackers, barely chewable, inadequate-but savored nonetheless.

Once more, the boxcar was locked and the high piercing, sound of the locomotive cut through the winter air. The boxcars smashed and jerked as other cars were added or taken off the train. There was the slow pull; halt; pull; halt; then forward once more until, finally, there was an established rhythm as the freight train won its freedom to continue its slow and weary pace. The quiet clacking of the wheels filled the air until progress was halted at another railway siding. Again and again this pattern was repeated. For us, crowded together, we had hours and hours of simply standing or sitting, waiting on the louse-ridden, foul-smelling straw.

The night! That night! Halted in a freight yard—it was a rail yard outside Stalag 12-A Limburg. There was the sudden wailing of air raid sirens that cut through the stillness with their fearsome message. There was hysterical shouting by the soldiers guarding us as airplanes were heard passing over. Then, the shriek of bombs as one explosive followed another in the midnight rain of hell and terror. The bombs were coming closer and closer to our boxcar, destroying the boxcars and killing the helpless, hapless prisoners who could only listen as death crept up, nearer, nearer, nearer...

And now there is a scene that is indelibly branded in my mind. It cannot have been imagined because it is so clear and so well remembered. We did believe that we were in the last moments of our lives. I, the Jewish prisoner, was told "We are going to pray!" "I will, too," I remember saying. Men were on their knees. "Hail Mary, Mother of God"..., and a chorus of voices!

Only once since have I had occasion to be in a church, yet the prayer is part of me. How could this not have occurred?

As if in answer to the imploring cry of the trapped men, there was a scrabbling noise at the box car door. The lock was removed, and the door was pushed open. We jumped out of the wooden boxcar and ran, ran, ran, seeking safety wherever that might be. I sighted an embankment about six feet high some fifty or more feet away. Quickly, I covered that distance. On top of the wall was an enemy soldier. Foolishly, trying to get away from the terror behind, I reached out my hand to be lifted up on the wall.

He looked. He moved away. Just like that. He moved away. No statement. It fills my memory. Man on man.

I was Naïve then, still today.

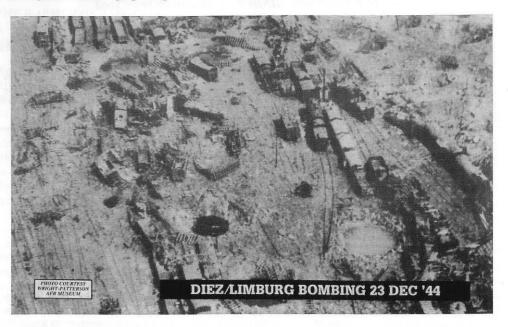

Had he been low and I high, would I have acted differently? A desperate hand extended and no help given!

Sadly, I seem to have had the same experience several times since, in other contexts, surely the same empty act.

The hand not given....

The bombing airplanes passed overhead and left. Stillness returned and the raid ended. Voices were again heard as the guards returned. They were excited and shouting and rounding up the prisoners. Who remembers Willie today? I do. For as long as I shall live, he will be remembered. For a few brief years, I am his eternity. I am alive because I did not accept his camaraderie and enter the same boxcar with him. Willie is long gone, and when I think of him, I realize that I have had those years of life that he lost that dark and terrible night. What would he have done with those lost years?

What have I?

English airmen bombed the Limburg rail yard in Germany on the night of December 23, 1944. Unknowing, they did their duty and they hit their target the freight yard, the train—and us.

Willie Warmuth died that night, killed only a few feet away. He died where I might have been if I had accompanied him. Would it have been me rather than Willie? And here he died in captivity, buried under tons of German dirt in that freight yard. Willie was going to be a journalist in Ohio. He uncle owned a newspaper there. And I think often of that hand not given. It is a memory of a foolish hurt.

Unreasonable, yes, but lingering nonetheless.

In the years that have followed there have been many wounds, some as rasping and deep, but these were some of my first; and they have endured, as I have, to this day.

MEMORIES OF A TOUR OF DUTY WII IN EUROPE

Any book store can order the book by Title, Author or ISBN Number

Here is the story of a young draftee in World War II who experienced life in the Armored Force, the Army Air Force pilot training program and the reality of combat in an Infantry Division. On line with the 106th in a quiet sector of the Ardennes, these foot soldiers were in the direct path of the massive German offensive that became known as The Battle of the Bulge. Overwhelmed by the sheer might of numbers and firepower arrayed against them, they managed to upset the enemy timetable until forced to surrender on the fourth day of what has been called the greatest battle of the war in terms of men and machines. This book is about an individual and his experiences under fire and as a prisoner of war; liberation by the Russian Army and his adventures on a hike across country to rejoin the American Army. Here, an attempt has been made to create the feeling of the times in addition the problems of the moment. It is a book about real people in a tragic period of history.

He was of such support in the Box-Cars and during the long marches and the bombing at Limburg, Germany and the Christmas days, when you were thinking so strongly of home. He led many of you in the singing of Christmas Carols in the boxcars. He also held services in the POW Camps. He was cherished by those that knew him, and those he served. A TEENS WAR ... TRAINING, COMBAT, CAPTURE

hal1271@bresnan.net 970-245-7807

Available http://www.1stbooks.com as a hard copy or electronic transfer.

A Teen's War describes the experiences of a small town boy in the latter stages of World War II. Portions originated from letters written home about induction, training, and time overseas with the 423rd Regiment of the 106th Infantry Division and that unit's short period of combat in the Battle of the Bulge.

The story is unique compared to most war books, for it contains none of the pedantic pretenses of most military histories, filled with strategy or the so-called 'Big Picture.' Instead, A Teen's War tells how a young, private soldier became aware of reality and the world around him despite his limited view.

All readers who have ever heard the words, 'missing in action,' will find this book interesting. Readers who were prisoners of war themselves, particularly of the Germans, will recall those hellish times and understand that recollection enables one to live and to cope with the realities of today.

SOLDIER BOY A CHRONICLE OF LIFE AND DEATH AND SURVIVAL DURING WORLD WAR II BY GEORGE K. ZAK, 422/M

This book is available from the author for $13.00 (includes shipping cost). 6159 Brookside Lane, Apt A, Willowbrook, IL 60527. Copies are also available from Amazon.com for $10.95 plus S & H.

This is a fascinating, eloquent account of a 19 year old trying to grow to manhood in the middle of a deadly world war. After briefly describing his rigorous training as an infantry soldier, including some semi-comic events while learning to drive a jeep, he and his buddles were finally off to war in Europe as well-trained, confident members of the 106" Infantry Division.

Shortly after arriving at the battle front in December, 1944 during a bone-chilling, bitter cold winter, the majority of the Division was surrounded and finally overwhelmed in a bloody battle, by a much larger, more powerful German force during the beginning of the Battle of the Bulge. Thousands of young soldiers, including Zak, were forced to surrender. The rest of the book describes his life in three different camps as a prisoner of war. He gives a gripping account of the fear, the misery and the many dangers he often faced. As a prisoner he escaped death from bombs, machine gun fire, and a German guard's rifle bullet shot at him. He was hungry all the time, always under guard and powerless, and unsure of his ultimate fate. He mourned the death of many of his fellow soldiers during the battle, some at his side, and constantly worried whether his parents knew if he was alive or dead.

Zak ends his book describing the arrival of the Russian army and the surprising and disappointing beginning of the Cold War with the Russians. A well-told, remarkable story.

BEFORE THE VETERANS DIE

a book of poems inspired by World War II... by Dale R. Carver (deceased)

Poet Laureate - 106th Inf Div Association HQs Co., 3Bn A&P Platoon Leader 424th Infantry Regiment, 106th Infantry Division By Dale Carver, Poet Laureate (deceased) 106th Inf Division Association

Order from Ruth Carver 742 Druid Circle, Baton Rouge, LA 70808 $10.00 Post-paid

Dale, died in 2001. He had written poetic memories of the War. His poems appeared in "The CUB" for several years. They all bring back memories and visions of the times.

Dale was awarded the Silver Star for Valor. He disabled German mines, while under attack, that had been placed under a bridge.

For that he received a battle field promotion (from 2nd to 1st Lt.) and was awarded the Silver Star for "gallantry under fire." He told me, during one reunion, that he thought it, the Silver Star, should have been for another time when he led a group of soldiers through a live mine field to safety. The soldiers had walked into the mine field and were "frozen in fear."

HELL FROZEN OVER

Author Marilyn Estes Quigley (This was a popular book - shown and sold at the 58th Annual reunion). Marilyn, associate professor of English at Evangel University in Springfield, Missouri, teacher composition, literature and creative writing. The current Evangel campus was O'Reilly General Hospital during WWII, a medical facility for soldiers. Quigley's office, still in an original barracks, was formerly an operating room. She published fiction, a children's musical, poetry, and articles. Her husband Ed designed and painted the cover of Hell Frozen Over. Author's email: edmarquig@wmconnect.com

Hell Frozen Over describes the personal experiences of sixteen 106th soldiers who were caught in Hitler's final grasp to strangle the continent. More than half of these men were among the 7,001 in the Division who were taken as prisoners of war. Scattered in camps throughout Germany, they willed themselves to survive as deprivation and even slave labor threatened their lives and sanity. Their comrades-in-arms who escaped capture and remained to fight in foxholes and tanks had other hells to endure, as did the civilians of every town in the area. There are nearly 30 WWII photos of 106th servicemen along with accountings their personal stories.

HOW TO LIVE WITH PTSD

Causes and Characteristics of POST TRAUMATIC STRESS DISORDER

A NEW, EASY TO READ BOOK ABOUT A COMPLEX PROBLEM

By: Dr. Beverly Peterson RN, MSN, Ph.D., and Richard Peterson Ph.D., MBA. (deceased) Dr. Beverly Peterson is a retired Navy Psychiatric Nurse.

Dr. Richard Peterson (deceased) was a former 106th Infantry Weapons Platoon Sergeant 423/I and was a prisoner of war.

Dick, as you know was very active in our Association. He had served on the Association Board, had been recognized by the French for his work in connection with research on Stalag IX-A, Ziegenhain. He attended several joint meetings with the French - after the war. It was after this research and many returns to Ziegenhain that he wrote CHILD WARRIORS, (see below) which many of you have read..

Both Dick, before his death, and his wife, Beverly, worked with clients suffering from PTSD. This is a book written for people trying to understand what trauma has done to their lives and their families and to help the counselors who help them in alleviating their agonies. $18.00 Postpaid.

HEALING THE CHILD WARRIOR - A SEARCH FOR INNER PEACE

By Dr. Richard Peterson, Ph.D., (deceased) "I" Co., 423rd Infantry Regiment, 106th Infantry Division. Order from Consultors Incorporated, See below.

An autobiographical study of the long range effects of combat and captivity on young soldiers.

December 1944 - The Ardennes Forest - Battle of the Bulge

Healing the Child Warrior is a book to give to your children and grandchildren. It recounts what you couldn't tell them about December 1944 when two entire infantry regiments and many smaller groups of soldiers totally disappeared in the Ardennes Forest of Germany. The author was there as an infantry sergeant. He captures the furious fighting in the first days of the Battle of the Bulge, and the long lasting effects of combat on the young soldiers who fought in it.

He recounts the suffering and despair of prisoners of war, especially in Stalag IXB and Stalag IXA. He discusses and analyzes the feelings of confusion and withdrawal after the return home.

Joseph Massey, 422/C 4820 Spunky Hollow Rd, Remlap, AL 35133 295-681-1701 brid2066@bellsouth.net Our Mini-Reunion was held on December 10, 2004 at The Club atop Red Mountain, which has a spectacular view of the City of Birmingham, Alabama. It was combined with the annual dinner meeting of the Battle of the Bulge. Governor Bob Riley spoke about our age being "The Greatest Generation." Without notes he spoke, directly and to each of us so that we felt that we were "indeed" part of the events of that era. He spoke factually about of the many facets of those living in our generation. VBOB installed Officers for the coming year.

Among those installed was Will Temple, 422/D, 106th Infantry Division.

Twenty-seven attended including nine 106th Vets who each gave a brief summary of their experiences in the "Battle of the Bulge." The 2005 event will be held December 11, 2005. Please write or call me to be added to the mail list. See my address above.

The Arizona Mini-Reunion was held on December 17, 2004 in Mesa at the home of Dean and Eleanor Childs. We had several new attendees. Our program was "Show and Tell" with all participating. We were minus two of our regular veterans, Toby Anderson, due to illness, and Richard Behr having another commitment. The veteran coming the furthest was Milton Weiner from California; he came with his son Bernard, an Associate, living in Arizona. He contributed greatly to the program.

Ten Golden Lion veterans, one Associate and two visiting Battle of the Bulge veterans, one each from the 99th Infantry Division and the Ninth Armored Division enjoyed the relationship.

Since it was the sixtieth anniversary, each individual was asked to spend a few minutes discussing any subject the desired, past or present. It was a friendly atmosphere which the ladies enjoyed. "Dang me, dang me, they oughta take a rope and hang me," So sang Roger Miller, and I guess that could apply to me since I don't have many photos to show you. However the weatherman cooperated on December 16, so we did have a very successful turnout. Eighty-four (84) showed up for a nice luncheon served by the Club Meade at Fort G. G. Meade, MD, and to hear our speaker, Bill Everett, a veteran of the 36th Infantry Division, 141st Infantry Regiment, C Company.

If you ever wonder how I draw so many, well, I'll tell you.

Just line up a good place, engage a speaker, keep the price down, and tell everybody and his uncle. This is my way of getting the word out about the 106th Infantry Division.

106th Vets attending included Stanley Bachmurski; Ralph (Ken) Barnes; Grayson Bishop; Edward Christianson; Clark Dovell; John Gatens; Phil Hannon; Bill Hemelt; Alan Jones, Jr.; Edward McGinty; Donald Regier; John Schaffner; Jack Schoelkopf; Jack Sulser; Richard Tennant and Earle Valenstein. That is only sixteen, but if you count all the family, friends, Associates and a large group from the Baltimore Round Table of military History - it all adds up to a crowd.

The two photos show only a part of the group. Wait till next year!

The 106th Michigan veterans group held their mini-reunion at the Embassy Suites in Novi, Michigan. There were 36 in attendance. The guest speaker was Col. Richard A. Stone, Commander of the 452nd Combat Support Hospital in Milwaukee, who spent 18 months in Afghanistan. Col. Stone was chosen by the Dept of Army to set up all the field hospitals to treat trauma cases for civilians as well as soldiers wounded during the operation Enduring FREEDOM. His talk was accompanied by a slide presentation about the trauma care as well as conditions in Afghanistan including its disease rate among civilians. He told the group about many great things that the USA were doing that was not reported by the press. Another highlight was an invitation to tour the US Army Tank-Automotive and Armaments Command in Warren, MI. That visit was delayed from Dec 16 2004 to May 26, 2005. The Michigan group are invited to take a tour of the facility to view production of vehicles used in Iraq.

Dean and Della Sandahl, 3041 North 62nd Street, Lincoln, NE 68507-2406 402-466-3564 sandyandd@juno.com

We met at 11:00 AM Monday October 18, 2004 ay the USA Steak Buffet, Lincoln, Nebraska on a beautiful autumn day. We opened with the Pledge of Allegiance and an Invocation, remembering our parted ones and praying for our servicemen and women in search of the terrorists who would take our freedom from us.

I read two poems by Dale Carver, our deceased 106th Infantry Division Association "Poet Laureate." They were titled "For Veterans of the Battle of the Bulge" (originally titled "My First reunion - 1989) and "The Soldiers of World War II" written December 16, 1999.

We had a private room and enjoyed a delicious steak/chicken buffet. Our memories took us back to the "Ardennes" 60 years ago this winter. As always we ran out of time to visit and catch up.

We plan to host again next year, same place, same time - Monday October 17. 2005. We hope to see more of our neighbors and renew old friendships.

Our 106th NJ Mini-Reunion was held December 8, 2004 at Picatinny Arsenal in Wharton NJ. We held a joint meeting with the local chapter of the Battle of the Bulge. 23 members of the 106th and 33 members of the BOB attended. The theme was "The Christmas We Never Had"

The Arsenal served a very nice lunch with salad, roast beef, carrots, mashed potatoes with gravy and finished up with apple pie, coffee and tea. Each member brought in a gift for our grabbag for Santa Clause to distribute. He looked and sounded like the real Santa. It was only later that we found out it was actually one of our members, Jerry Mount.

Our good old Dr. Duncan Trueman was our Chaplin for the joint meeting and as always very inspiring. We had a fun filled afternoon with great camaraderie and the chance to meet some members of the 106th for the first time.

It was not until later that we heard the sad news that one of our members in attendance, Salvatore Scalzo, had died the very next day. He was a wonderful man and he will be missed. We wish to express our deep sorrow to his wife,Grace..

If you haven't sponsored a Mini-Reunion in your area, give it a try. All it takes is a little effort to invite people from your area.

Some years ago we had our Puerto Rico member set up a table, invite his sons and called it a Mini-Reunion. He hung up a flag and had a cake. It was a great Mini-Reunion.

Since my parting will leave a void, The fill it with remembered joy. A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss, Oh yes these things I too will miss.

My life's been full, I've savored much. Good friends, good times, my loved one's touch. Perhaps to you, my time was all too brief, Don't lengthen it now with undue grief.

A SPECIAL TRIBUTE TO A GREAT LADY TILLY KIMMES - CEBA

Dave Ford, Associate wrote:

"Tilly Kimmes was the long time Secretary of CEBA (The Luxembourg version of CRIBA). It is actually older than CRIBA and was the model the Belgians looked toward when they started their assistance to American veterans effort (CRIBA).

She hosted many vets in her home and guided thousands of others on their "return to battlefields" excursions throughout Luxembourg.

She spoke English superbly and was dedicated to assisting vets and others interested in WW2 events in Luxembourg. Helping veterans orient themselves in relation to their wartime experiences was her way of paying back for the freedom they provided for her and her beloved Luxembourg.

She travelled often to the States to speak at veterans functions. There was a cover picture and story about her in the "Battle of the Bulge" newsletter about 3 or 4 years ago.

Arline and I were guests in her home on several occassions and she treated us like family. JohnSchaffner, John Gatens and I were also in her company several times.

Tilly was a good person and loved the returning GI's. She lived just north of Luxembourg City. In the last several years she has been in a total care facility and her passing was expected.

We remember her fondly and she will be truely missed. I salute her. She would have loved that.

Dave Ford

From our Treasurer: You will note the cost of the Cub publishing, printing and mailing - was $16,516.18 for a year. A year in which we had 1,600 members. Cost, including mailing was $10.32 per member. The Annual dues of $10 and Life dues of $75 (which is amortized over 7.5 years) creates an automatic financial shortfall.

NOTICE TO WWII HISTORY BUFFS

In 1944, the 106th Infantry Division was in it's infancy. In order to keep the troops informed, and also provide a source of entertainment, a periodic publication was begun. It was known as The Cub of The Golden Lion. A special group of soldiers was detailed to produce the paper. When the war was finally over, and the division was on the way home a group of the 106th Division soldiers met to lay the ground work to establish an association that would be a vehicle to perpetuate the camaraderie and friendships established during this period. An essential part of this organization was a continuance of The Cub of The Golden Lion. An editor was chosen, and though the editor's job has been passed on a few times, The Cub has been published ever since and continues on as the official quarterly of the 106th Infantry Division Association.

With the advent of the miracles of the electronic age, it has been possible to store every issue of The Cub on two small CD disks. Every issue is there, including those early newspaper types that somehow survived more than sixty years. The editors have included those memoirs and personal experiences of the veterans right along with all of the other veterans' stories. The reproduction to CD disks involved copying every page of every issue. They are all there for the PC user to view. Each and every page is in a format that can be printed just as it was copied, if desired.

The CD disks are available for
