

Future Of 106th Still Undecided

WASHINGTON, June 5—Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire said today that the future of the famous 106th Division is still undecided. It may become part of the Army of Occupation for at least a time.

“I asked Gen. Walton B. Persons of the special staff, who has just returned from Europe to tell me the redeployment plans for the Lion Head Division,” the senator said.

“He told me that he was very much interested in the disposition of the famous division, and had asked about it specially before leaving the European theater. He said that the plans were yet undetermined, and that there was a possibility the 106th would do police work for some time before coming home.”

1945-06-06 future of 106th

Clipped By:

criswest

Fri, Nov 17, 2017