

THE ATTERBURY CRIER

Volume 1:

CAMP ATTERBURY, INDIANA, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1942

Number 1

THE GENERAL

AN INTRODUCTION...

THE COLONEL

VOL. I, NO. 1—THE ATTERBURY CRIER—A weekly newspaper published in the interest of the personnel of Camp Atterbury, Indiana.

The purpose of this publication is to fulfill "that natural human desire of the soldier to obtain information as to the activities of his comrades and his neighboring organizations" (Par. 30, MR 110) and also to provide a vehicle for soldier expression, humorous and creative. It is hoped that the paper will be one the Atterbury soldier will read and enjoy, and want to send home to his family and friends.

To accomplish this purpose, the publisher is furnished the news content by military units within the camp, gathered through an organization of soldier correspondents representing their sections, companies, battalions, regiments and divisions, under the supervision of the Special Services and Public Relations Officers of the Post, and other units within the camp. The paper is distributed free to each member of the camp military personnel.

More than 50 enlisted men, representatives of their units, took active parts in the preparation of news and other content for this first edition. For future editions they and others will continue to be the sources through which news and content for THE ATTERBURY CRIER will be gathered.

ATTERBURY STREETS, ROADS HAVE NEW HISTORIC NAMES

Names that have built the history of Indiana now designate many of the streets and roads in Camp Atterbury. On the honored list, announced by Col. Welton M. Modisette, camp commander, are former presidents of the United States, Army officers, statesmen, authors and two Indian chiefs.

The names were chosen by camp officials in cooperation with Maj. Gen. Frank W. Milburn, commander of the 83rd Infantry Division, and his staff.

All cantonment area streets which formerly were designated by a letter of the alphabet are now designated by the name of a prominent man of history whose last name begins with the same letter.

"H" Street has now become Harrison St.—honoring William Henry Harrison, who was the first Governor of Indiana Territory. He was elected President of the United States in 1840.

EACH NAME, ALSO LETTER.

"E" Street is now Eggleston St.—named for Edward Eggleston, author of "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," recognized as one of the best books on pioneer life in Indiana.

Gen. Ambrose E. Burnside, commander of the Army of the Potomac at the Battle of Fredericksburg in the Civil War, was a native Hoosier, and "B" St. was named for him.

A complete list of street names that have been adopted is as follows:

ANDERSON ST.—For Chief Anderson, Indian leader.
BURNSIDE ST.—For Gen. Ambrose E. Burnside, Civil War officer.

COL. WELTON M. MODISETTE.

The Camp Commander says: "I am glad to welcome THE ATTERBURY CRIER and hope it will become a vital part of Army life here. It is intended to serve all of the personnel of this camp by conveying ideas, information of camp happenings and providing good soldier fun."

"The success of the paper, from the soldier's standpoint, will depend on the continued co-operation of all in gathering adequate and correct news and in presenting it in such a way that the public, as well as the soldier in camp, will have a true picture of what Camp Atterbury is doing."

"May I express my sincere wish that the newspaper will help us to 'see ourselves' and better play our part in the final victory."

WELTON M. MODISETTE,
"Colonel," Cavalry,
"Camp Commander."

83rd Division In Strenuous Conditioning

Officers And Men Busy On Obstacle Course, Ranges

Time is precious! Every hour, every day since Saturday, Aug. 15, when the 83rd Division commanded by Maj. Gen. Frank W. Milburn was re-activated in colorful ceremonies, the officers and men of the cadres now forming the organization have been busy working, training, conditioning themselves for the great work of making fighting soldiers out of raw recruits.

Every man in the 83rd, be he general or private, has been undergoing a strenuous regime of long hikes and conditioning exercises. Almost every hour of the day men can be seen running through the obstacle course set up east of the Division, jumping water hazards, climbing walls, vaulting fences, crawling through cutters, so that they may excel.

DRILL, LECTURES.

The rifle and heavier arms ranges have been busy with the ever-important training in marksmanship and gun crews have been going through their routine every day. Drill, lectures, practice, in company, battalion and regimental demonstration, all are playing their part in bringing the 83rd to a peak of perfection at the earliest possible moment.

Referred into the 2nd Army by Lt. Gen. Ben. Lear when the cadre passed in review for the re-activation ceremony, before Henry F. Schricker, governor of Indiana, the 83rd begins the writing of its chapters in a famous history. The original Division was organized in 1917 at Camp Sherman, Ohio, near Chillicothe, and was made up largely of men from Ohio, western Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

92nd Division Components Formed Here

Division Boasts Fine World War I Record

The 365th Infantry Regiment and the 887th Field Artillery Battalion and attached 92nd components of the 92nd Infantry Division were activated here Sept. 19, with Col. W. E. B. DuBois as commander in chief.

The original 92nd Infantry Division, a part of the old National Army, was activated Oct. 24, 1917, at Camp Funston, Kan. It was made up of Negro selective service men from the United States at large and was under command of Brig. Gen. Charles C. Ballou.

Component units were the 183rd Field Artillery, Division troops and the 887th Field Artillery Battalion.

FOUGHT IN MEUSE ARGONNE.

The division saw action in the St. Die Sector (Lorraine), the Meuse Argonne operation and the Marbach Sector (Lorraine).

On Jan. 30, 1919, the division re-emerged for the United States where the 1st unit was demobilized March 7 at Camp Meade, Md. Besides Gen. Ballou, the division was commanded by Brig. Gen. John I. M. Mahon, Brig. Gen. Malvern P. Barham, Maj. Gen. Charles H. Martin and Brig. Gen. James B. Fraw.

30TH, 31ST SIGNAL CONSTRUCTION GROUPS ARE ACTIVATED HERE

The 30th and 31st Signal Construction Battalions were activated at Camp Atterbury Aug. 27. Cadres for the battalions came from Fort Monmouth, N. J.

Fifty-three enlisted men commanded by 2nd Lt. Robert D. Smith composed the cadre for the 30th Battalion, while 2nd Lt. Lovell Smith was in charge of 42 men for the 31st Battalion.

Lieut. Col. Clyde F. Banks is commanding officer of the 30th Battalion, with Maj. William E. Appleton as executive officer. Headquarters company and Companies A and B are commanded by 2nd Lt. Gerard L. Braun, Capt. Robert F. Peterson and 1st Lt. Elmer C. Craig, respectively.

The 31st Battalion is under command of Lieut. Col. Paul A. Pickhardt, with 2nd Lt. Lovell Smith as adjutant. 1st Lt. Louis H. Ghoshal, Capt. Tilden D. McNair and 1st Lt. Hiram McGowan command Headquarters, A and B companies, respectively.

WAACs Here In December

150 To Be Stationed Here; Barracks Rising Rapidly

The WAACs, a company of about 150 of them, are expected at Camp Atterbury in December, and construction of barracks to house the women is progressing rapidly back of post headquarters.

The five structures in the group will include a communication administration building which will also house a beauty parlor, a mess hall and three barracks, of sturdy frame construction faced with composition granite, according to Captain Gordon L. Linder, assistant area engineer.

There will be nothing fancy about the construction—just the same as the hundreds of other buildings of the camp which house the men soldiers. The WAACs can add whatever "women's touch" they desire during off-duty hours.

Three new orders, assign a company of three platoons, or about 150 of the WAACs to Camp Atterbury for the performance of clerical and service duties. The rosters contain typists, clerks, postal clerks, maids, bookkeepers, ushers, cashiers, bartenders, receptionists, etc.

WATCH YOUR SPEED!

Speed limits for all drivers within the Camp Atterbury Area, announced by Major Clyde W. Sams, Jr., Director of the Internal Security and Intelligence Division, are as follows:

15 miles per hour in the Cantonment Areas.

25 miles per hour elsewhere on the reservation.

These limits are to be strictly observed by all drivers.

MAJ. GEN. FRANK W. MILBURN

The General Says: "Congratulations to the Camp Atterbury newspaper. The men in the 83rd Division have looked forward to its first issue with great anticipation. We will depend upon it for news of activities of our own unit and of the other units in the camp."

"The Camp Atterbury newspaper will play an important role in making our stay here a pleasant experience. We wish it every success."

Maj. Gen. Frank W. Milburn,
Commanding General,
83rd Infantry Division.

83RD COMMANDER NOW MAJOR GENERAL

With the pinning of a second star on each shoulder by his wife, 2nd Lt. Gen. Frank W. Milburn, commanding general of the 83rd Division, Thursday became Major General Milburn.

General Milburn was administered the oath by Lt. Col. J. E. Leach, Adjutant of the Division, in the presence of his family and staff, following confirmation of his promotion by the United States Senate. The recommendation was made by President Roosevelt.

Gen. Milburn, a native of Jasper, Ind., assumed command of the 83rd Division in August following the transfer of Maj. Gen. John J. Milham, first head of the 83rd, to Camp Forrest, Tenn.

Gen. Milburn, a distinguished athlete, was graduated from United States Military Academy at West Point in 1914 and saw early service in the Panama Canal Zone, at Camp Dix, N. J., and Plattsburg, N. Y.

Later he served as instructor in the Army's command and general staff school and also served as instructor of military science and tactics at Montana University.

In 1928 he served with the 20th Infantry at Ft. Benning, Ga., and in 1940 as plans and operations officer of the Eighth Division stationed in South Carolina. He also spent two months recently with the British Army in Egypt, observing methods of desert warfare.

He came to Camp Atterbury from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

This Is Just The First Edition

THE ATTERBURY CRIER is to be published weekly. It is the medium through which the news of Camp Atterbury will express itself.

Contributors of unit correspondence should send their material to the editor, who will think it will be interesting to other soldiers of the camp. Editors: Major General Frank W. Milburn, Commanding General, 83rd Infantry Division.

OUR ENEMIES ARE NOT "EGG SHELLS": Great Spirit Among Our Soldiers — Don't Let Them Down, Gen. Lear Tells American Legion

American devotion to duty in the Army has been demonstrated at every post and in every unit. Lt. Gen. Ben. Lear, commander of the Second Army, said in his address at the annual convention of the American Legion in Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 20.

There is a great spirit of devotion to duty in every unit of the Army today. It is the spirit of the American Legion, he said, that is the great spirit of the American Legion. It is the spirit of the American Legion that is the great spirit of the American Legion.

UP TO SOLDIERS.

Remember that our country is at stake. It is up to you to win this war. It is up to you to win this war.

Don't let them down, Gen. Lear told the American Legion. He said that the American Legion is the great spirit of the American Legion. He said that the American Legion is the great spirit of the American Legion.

He said that the American Legion is the great spirit of the American Legion. He said that the American Legion is the great spirit of the American Legion.

Buglers, Rations — Just Call For Co. F, 41st Engineers

Any soldier who likes to hear the bugle sound off at Reveille should send his appreciation to Company "F" of the 41st Engineers. It is this unit that is responsible for all bugle calls, throughout the camp, and the buglers are under the direct control of Cpl. Louis Chick.

The Company is commanded by 1st Lt. L. H. Ferdinand Hahn, Baltimore, Md.; Lt. Howard J. McIntyre, Clarksville, W. Va.; and Lt. Paul W. Curtis, Chattanooga, Tenn.

Distribution of rations for Camp Atterbury is also handled by Company "F." S. Sgt. William B. Poole, Philadelphia, Pa.; Cpl. Raymond Edwards, Portsmouth, Va.; and Cpl. William A. Weaver, Atlanta, Ga., oversee this work.

Jubilee Singers, Too
The Company "F" Quartet, better known as the "41st Engineers' Jubilee Singers," have appeared regularly on the Wednesday night radio program "Meet The Yanks," broadcast from Service Club No. 2 over Radio Station WIBC of Indianapolis. This group is under the direction of Sgt. James L. Crawford and Pvt. Samuel Sherrard.

Edward L. Fox, Washington, D. C., is First Sergeant of the unit. S. Sgt. Samuel R. Dennis, South Pittsburg, Tenn., is chief clerk of the personnel section. The execution of Company duty is under the direct control of S. Sgts. Willie Ricks, Fayetteville, N. C.; Willie L. Jones, New Carolina; and Wendell S. Saunders, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Supplies are manned by Sgt. Robert M. Nixon of South Carolina; transportation by Sgt. Magnor Gibbs and Cpl. Norman J. Carter of Philadelphia, Pa.

Ordained Minister
The Company has an ordained minister in the person of the Rev. R. L. Wooten, who is a graduate of A. and T. College, Greensboro, N. C., and Virginia Seminary, Lynchburg, Va. He was a pastor in Plainfield, N. J., before entering the service. In the absence of the chaplain, when the unit is on detached service, religious devotions are conducted by Rev. Wooten.

Sgt. Milton B. Boone, Portsmouth, Va., is the chief carpenter in the Company. Pfc. John G. Dorsey, Philadelphia, Pa., is orderly for the outfit.

The Regiment of which this unit is a part is the famous 41st Engineers, better known as the "Singing Engineers." This is the parent organization of all the colored Engineers, having sent cadre to form other outfits in all parts of the United States and its possessions.

2 MEN, 1 MARK — * ! * ! ABOUT LAUNDRY

Corp. Cten. A. Herries and Pfc. Florent J. Heiman, of the 74th General Hospital, have a problem on their hands each time they receive their clothes from the camp laundry. Both men have the same laundry mark—H 1821.

Laundry marks are made by taking the first letter of the last name and adding the last four numbers of the Army serial number, and the chances of two men in the same unit having the same mark are one in eleven-million, but Herries and Heiman have it.

23 Appointed To First OCS

Administrative School Group Headed by Causey

Twenty-three men from Camp Atterbury have been appointed to the first class of the Army Administrative Officer Candidate School to be held at the North Dakota Agricultural College, Fargo, N. D.

Ranking member of the group is Charles D. Causey, of Indianapolis, who in one week enjoyed the experience of being promoted from the rank of staff sergeant to that of master sergeant and of being chosen for officer training in the administrative branch.

OTHERS SENT.

Others ordered from Camp Atterbury were Tech. S. I. Bernard J. Diekmann, Staff Sergeants Charles E. Causey, DeRoss McCurdy, Norman W. Phillips and Warren R. Wise, Sergeants Robert L. O'Regan and Robert S. Schmeltz, Technician 4th Grade Roger W. Salzer, Technician 5th Grade Paul Smith, Privates First Class Thomas W. Doddridge, Ralph M. Heuser, William C. Miller and George Molar, and Privates Ralph D. Cag, Charles H. Dater, Lawrence M. Dellinger, Robert E. Peters, Joseph P. Gatchonis, Julian S. Glazer, Harold C. Marshall, Robert E. Myers, Orval R. Partlow and Paul H. Wenzel.

LT. COL. HAHN HEADS 338TH ENGINEER REGT. — ACTIVATION SEPT. 12

The 338th Engineer General Service Regiment was activated at Camp Atterbury, Sept. 4, with Lt. Col. C. L. Hahn, as Commander.

A cadre of officers and enlisted men selected from the 108th Engineer Combat Battalion trained at Camp Forrest, Tenn., arrived here to form the nucleus of this organization. The first official troop inspection of the regiment was held Sept. 12 and the first regimental review, Sept. 19.

The coat-of-arms for the 338th Engineers, consisted of a red and white shield, with a pontoon on a trailer designed on the field of red, and bearing the motto "Nind Ojitanin" (We are ready), was approved in April, 1936.

Preparations for receiving the cadre were made by an advance group of officers, including Lt. Col. Hahn, and Major Edmonde B. Kelly, executive officer of the regiment.

The 108th Engineer Combat Battalion, from which the 338th Regiment was drawn, originally was an Illinois National Guard organization and was mobilized into active service from Chicago in 1941.

MAJ. BLATHERWICH HEADS LIST OF SEVEN OFFICERS PROMOTED

Promotion of seven officers at Camp Atterbury was announced here this week.

They are Allan Blatherwisch, 308th Engineers Battalion, from captain to major; R. C. Williams, camp range officer, from 1st Lieutenant to captain; Harold E. Ratcliffe and Richard B. Bare, 308th Medical Battalion, from 1st lieutenant to captain and Trace Christenson, assistant camp ordnance officer; Cecil J. Mumma, assistant special services officer, and Isaac Wilder, Jr., camp theater officer from 2nd to 1st lieutenants.

WPA Show Makes Hit at Club No. 1

A nine-act variety show was given at the No. 1 Service Club Thursday night before an appreciative audience. An Area Recreational Program of the Works Projects Administration it was the first entertainment given in the club.

Entertainers included: Helen Maloney, accordionist; Beverly Loop, vocalist; Emily Jean Lewis, acrobat; Shirley Stonebreaker, tap dancer; Barbara King, Mellic Cohen, and Bobbie Moates.

Co. D. Has Fine Day Room

Co. D of the 308th Medical Battalion boasts of the nicest day room in the battalion. Through the efforts of their Commanding Officer, Capt. Winter T. Varner, the men recently have acquired a huge day board and many other games including a time puzzle table. Efforts are being made to locate instructors in the other companies of the battalion to master the fun-points of the game.

Camp Name Honors W. W. Atterbury, Organizer of AEF Transportation

The man whose name Camp Atterbury, railroad executive who supervised transportation for the United States Expeditionary Force in France during World War I.

General Atterbury was a native Hoosier, born in New Albany, Ind., in 1866. After a determined struggle for education, he entered the railroad business and rose steadily until he became head of one of the largest roads in the world.

With the United States' entry into World War I, Gen. John J. Pershing called on Secretary of War Newton Baker to send one of the best transportation men of the country to France to take over the job of moving the A.E.F. With the rank of Brigadier General, Gen. Atterbury was given the colossal job of building the machinery for landing, carrying to battle, and supplying the hundreds of thousands of soldiers from America forming the A.E.F. in France. For his work he was decorated by his, and many of the allied nations. After the war he returned to his civilian job until ill health forced his retirement. He died in 1934.

GEN. MILBURN PRAISES QUARTERMASTER UNIT FOR EXCELLENT SERVICE

When the officers and men of the 1560th Service Unit, Quartermaster Section, lay claim to the most arduous duties and long hours of work in camp, they have a document to prove it—a letter from Maj. Gen. Frank W. Milburn, commander of the 83rd Division, addressed to Col. Welton M. Modisette, praising the excellent and efficient service given by the Quartermaster Section, both in supplying the Division and in speeding up supplies for the reactivation day program.

To the Quartermaster Section belongs the tough job of supplying all the outfits in camp with bedding, equipment, clothing, food and other supplies.

Do Many Types of Work
Men of the organization do office and administrative work, truck driving, chauffeuring, unloading and filling requisitions at the warehouses, unloading and delivering fuel to the various units, and scores of other duties.

The Quartermaster unit is commanded by 2nd Lt. George R. Cronan.

Col. Clarence Lineberger is Camp Quartermaster; Lt. Col. Harley B. Johnson, supply officer; Maj. Frank T. McQueen, property officer; Capt. Charles C. Boatright, rail transportation officer; 1st Lt. John W. Conner, asst. property and requisition officer; 1st Lt. Harry Lerner, personal adjutant; 2nd Lt. Stanley Marynowski, purchasing and contracting officer; 1st Lt. R. S. Thomas, warehouse branch officer; 2nd Lt. Erling Gasman, motor transportation officer; 2nd Lt. Morton M. Mandel, civilian personnel officer; and Capt. John C. Frame, sales and commissary officer.

Other Officers

Tech Sgt. Anthony Guzo is acting first sergeant for the detachment.

Lt. Block Heads 74th

The 74th General Hospital was activated Aug. 31 as a field general hospital with 1st Lt. William H. Block as commanding officer. The cadre is made up of enlisted men from Ft. McClellan, Ala., and Ft. Benjamin, Harrison, Ind.

DESTINATION IS ARMY SECRET

A squad of soldiers at Union Station, Kansas City, attempted to buy railroad tickets to a Southern Army camp to which they had been ordered to report, but nobody on the railroad ever had heard of the place.

After checking postal guides, maps, the post office and telegraph companies, the soldiers finally called the Associated Press. An editor offered to send a message to Washington.

Back came this reply: "Sorry, War Department says location of camp is a military secret."—News Item.

SGT. CULMAN NAMED WARRANT OFFICER, J. G.

Appointment of Tech. Sgt. Louis Culman, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Culman, Indianapolis, Indiana, to the grade of Warrant Officer (JG), has been announced.

Culman enlisted in the Army May 20, 1941, two days after he was graduated from Indiana University with a Bachelor of Science degree in accounting. Eight days later, he was promoted to Specialist 3rd Grade, a rank now abolished. Other promotions followed rapidly. On Feb. 1, 1942, he was made Technician 5th Grade; June 12 he was advanced to grade of Staff Sergeant, and Aug. 15, he was promoted to Technical Sergeant.

Culman is a member of the Arcadia College fraternity and the International Accountants Society. He is a graduate of Shortridge high school, Indianapolis.

CAMP ATTERBURY
What Can We Do For You Boys?

First Here, Headquarters Section Pioneered in Providing Facilities

The honor of being first unit established in camp, first to serve mess here, and the first to be moved three times, goes to Headquarters Section of the 1560th Service Unit, whose cadre of two officers and five non-coms arrived July 1.

Muddy trails passed for roads, thousands of workmen still swarmed over the buildings, and most of the conveniences of a modern camp were missing when Capt. Arl H. Bristow, company commander, 2nd Lt. Isaac Wilder, 1st Sgt. James B. Miles, Supply Sgt. Edward Duncan, Sgts. Sam Pecherer and Corsie L. Wilson and Cpl. Harve Young set to work. They paved the way for the men who followed and who now fill jobs at camp headquarters, finance, personnel, special service, internal security and intelligence, public relations, and postal locator offices and who form the range detail.

SERVED FIRST MESS

On July 4, Sgt. Wilson and Cpl. Young cooked and served dinner—the first enlisted men's mess to be served in a mess hall at this camp.

Meanwhile, additional members of the unit began arriving. With more men at his disposal, Capt. Bristow was able to cope with the mud and drainage problem. Duck Walks were built between buildings and ground was levelled and drained, jobs that are familiar to the dozens of other organizations which have set up housekeeping at Camp Atterbury since then.

Today, a little less than three months since the original cadre arrived, headquarters section is a smooth-running outfit, occupying nine barracks and using two mess halls.

Open New Dispensary For Hospital Units

A dispensary serving the personal of the 72nd General Hospital, 73rd General Hospital, 35th Evacuation Hospital, and the 115th Station Hospital was officially opened September 17.

The first medical officer to serve was Major Walter H. Stubenrauch, of the 72nd General Hospital. A tour of inspection was conducted by Col. C. S. Hendricks, camp surgeon, Col. M. I. Strahl, and 2nd Lt. S. H. Fishman.

Service Unit Promotions

The following promotions have been announced in the 1560th Service Unit, Headquarters Section:

To be Master Sergeant—St. Sgt. Ralph K. Klebe. To be Staff Sergeant—Sgt. Jay P. Franz. To be Sergeant—Cpls. Emanuel Penstein and James D. Stevenson. To be Corporal—Pvts. 1cl. Guy E. Gillespie, James C. Kirkendall and Norman D. Madsen and Pvt. Leonard Yonover.

The following promotion has been announced in the 1560th Service Unit, Quartermaster Section: To be Technician 3rd Grade—Tech. 4th Gr. Walter Pickett.

331st Officer Married

2nd Lt. Joseph L. Phillips, of the 331st Infantry, was married to Miss Dorothy M. Tuhalski, of Rhinelander, Wis., Sept. 19. The ceremony took place in Rhinelander.

Lt. Phillips is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Phillips, of Rhinelander. He resided there prior to call to active service in October, 1940.

Seek Air Borne Officers

Opportunities exist for the transfer of Company Grade Engineer Officers to the Air Borne Command for officers who volunteer to make parachute jumps. Officers who desire this duty are encouraged to submit requests for transfer through channels to the Commanding General, Army Ground Forces, without delay.

Special Service Private Weds

Private Nerr L. Ross, Special Service Clerk, Headquarters, 1560th Service Unit, married Miss Betty Simone Rogers, Sept. 5. Mr. and Mrs. Ross were both residents of Indianapolis.

Duke Blacks Record

Duke, 90 lb. bulldog and mascot of the 308th Medical Battalion, contributed another black mark to his service record this week when, being exercised by Sgt. Otto F. Walberg, he decided quite suddenly but definitely on a change in direction, much to the surprise of the dignified sergeant. Duke of course was "out ranked" and as a result is on "C" rations at this writing. With the exception of a few scratches and a soiled uniform, there is nothing to prevent the sergeant from revealing to posterity the details of another "Walberg Triumph."

Duke was presented to the battalion as a gift by Col. Charles L. Baird, Division Suregon, shortly after activation of the unit.

THERE ARE TOO MANY; ASK ANY SOLDIER

In the early days, Hoosiers living near Camp Atterbury got quite a kick out of the actions of the soldiers at the new camp; and in turn, the officers and men were amused sometimes by the remarks of civilians not too well acquainted with the Army. The newspapers carried several stories about the number of sergeants arriving as members of the training cadre, and many people got the idea that all men in camp were sergeants. As a result colonels, majors, captains, and lieutenants found themselves being addressed as "sergeant."

The payoff, however, came in a conversation between an officer and a friendly native of a nearby town.

"I suppose," remarked the civilian, "that you find things a lot better now since you're getting that $50 a month, eh?"

THE ENEMY IS LISTENING KEEP IT TO YOURSELF

208th Engineer Promotions

Promotions in the 208th Engineer Battalion include: To be staff sergeant—Sgts. Sam Fisher, Harold Miller, Harry Schifner and Thomas Winegar; to be corporal—Pvt. Robert E. Godsey.

New men in the organization include: Tech 5th Gr. Richard C. Field, Buffalo, N. Y.; Pvts. Leonard Christensen, Exira, Iowa; Sam Freiden, Elgin, Iowa; Wendell Smith, Scranton, Pa.; Charles Crowder, Richmond Va.; John Barbera, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Marvin Dean, Pennsburg, West Va.; Edward Lucell, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Joseph Kreep, Franklin, Pa.

The Battalion area is being graded and put in shape, with tractors and bulldozers going night and day to finish the job quickly.

The Chaplain's Corner

(Editor's Note.—This is a digest of an address given troops of the post by Chaplain Virgil M. Hailey.)

The fruit of sexual impurity is an abundant crop of physical ills and moral degeneracy. The evil effects to the moral life are far more numerous and far more harmful than to the physical.

We are all moral beings, whether or not much attention is given to the cultivation of the moral nature, and all morality is religiously based.

Medical men recognize this. Some years ago, Dr. Hugo S. Cumming, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, made this statement before the Sunday Evening Club of Chicago:

"Science, properly organized, can eradicate most human diseases, but when it faces the social diseases—man's oldest scourge—it must call religion to its aid.—Medical science alone is ineffectual."

Ban Long Sought

All the high civilizations of the world have sought to ban the evil of sexual impurity and have had their laws to prevent it. When Moses received the great law for all mankind from God, he found in it the Seventh Commandment which said, "Thou shalt not commit adultery."

This commandment was not given by God to take any joy from man but to protect him from that evil which would rob him of all joy. Everywhere the Holy Scriptures warn against sexual sins. "Can a man take fire in his bosom and his clothes not be burned? Or can one walk upon hot coals and his feet not be scorched?" (Proverbs 6:27-28.)

Evil Recognized

The Army recognizes this evil and seeks in every possible way to prevent it. Because the Army provides prophylaxis stations is no sign it gives approval to sexual indulgence. It provides prisons for the violation of Army regulations but that is no approval of their violation. During the last war more men were taken out of service for venereal diseases than for wounds received in action. Any soldier who is incapacitated by these diseases sabotages his Army's program as effectively as though he were in the pay of the enemy.

The penalties of sexual impurity are severe on the body but they are much more so on the moral and spiritual nature. This sin dulls moral perception and lessens the sense of guilt until that which is known to be wrong appears as normally right. As one continues in this evil becomes a liar and a hypocrite seeking to hide his sin from his companions, his officers, his family and even his doctor. This sin robs one of self-respect and none is so miserable in life as that one who must look into a closet filled with skeletons of moral deeds he wishes to hide and foul memories he longs to forget. Edgar Guest expresses this by reminding us:

"I have to live with myself, and so

I want to be fit for myself to know.
I don't want to sit at set of sun
And hate myself for the things I've done."

Moral impurity beclouds the vision of God and drives away the reality of His presence. In the hardships and losses of civilian life as well as the loneliness and dangers of military life nothing so sustains and strengthens as the sense of the reality of God's presence. Drive this away by sin or spiritual neglect and man becomes a hopeless son of fate struggling in the web of impossible circumstances. With the sense of Divine presence he is buttressed and armed against all the hardships which life can bring.

Lowest Level

The early American Indians refused to have their pictures made lest a portion of their soul be caught on the film. Certainly without question, something irreplaceable goes out of the one who indulges in even one act of sexual irregularity. He becomes less strong, less respectful, less of a man. He lowers himself to the same moral plane as the woman of the street and becomes morally no better than she.

If a man is to go to war with a sound body and keen mind and return to the admiring arms of family and friends with head erect and the poise of self-respect, he cannot dare to risk even one contact with sexual vice.

Chaplain Donnelly

Host to 83rd Units

Major A. P. Donnelly, assistant chaplain of the 83rd Division, was host Thursday, Sept. 17, to Division Headquarters and Headquarters and Military Police companies, at a party given in the Headquarters recreation hall.

A "community sing" was held, followed by solos by Miss Dorothy Batton, of Franklin, Ind., Sgt. William Koop and Pvt. Thomas Staff.

Afterwards, a quiz contest was held between teams representing Headquarters Company and the military police company. The latter team composed of Cpls. John H. Mock and Elsworth F. Basim, won. Staff Sgt. John P. Lytle and Sgt. Irvin J. Craig were members of the Headquarters Company team.

Doughnuts and coffee were served.

Capt. R. B. Warriner

Heads 73rd Hospital

The 73rd General Hospital was activated Aug. 29. With Capt. R. B. Warriner, M.C. as commanding officer, Walter E. Mitchell is sergeant major, and Robert Herzog is acting first sergeant.

At present the group is composed of men from Ft. Jackson, S. C., and Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind. They call themselves the "Lucky 73rd" and have been busy getting their area ready for the men to come later.

Boards from the scrap lumber pile, nails drawn from old lumber and a few implements borrowed from the Post Engineers all combined with a lot of energy have resulted in board walks between the barracks and mess hall.

Quartette Sings For Class

"F" Company Quartette of the 41st Engineers was the feature attraction at the 10th anniversary of the Men's Union Bible Class held at the L. W. C. A., 653 N. West Street, Indianapolis, Sept. 20. Sgt. James L. Crawford, Cpl. Norman Smith and Privs. Thomas Carter and Samuel Sherard make up the quartette.

Catholic Service

A special opening Catholic service will be held Tuesday evening, September 29th, at 1900 in Chapel No. 314 for members of the 329th Infantry. This service will include the blessing of the chapels and Mass.

THE CHAPELS

There are twelve chapels located on the Post, five of which have been opened for use. These are:

The 83rd Division Chapel No. 701, on Gatling St.

The 329th Infantry Chapel, No. 314, on Fairbanks St., and 252.

The 331st Infantry Chapel, No. 513, on Fairbanks St.

The 338th Engineers (2nd Army) Chapel, No. 1606, on Clark St.

The 8th Hq. & Hq. Detached Special Troops (2nd Army) Chapel, No. 1510, on Clark St.

Religious services are also held in the Hospital Auditorium and in recreation halls as listed in the schedule of Religious Worship Services. Other chapels will be opened in the 83rd Division in the near future.

Each chapel will accommodate a congregation of four hundred, is supplied with a Hammond electric organ, Army and Navy hymnals, heating and cooling units, and all equipment which will make for comfort and convenience in worship.

They are not only sacred symbols of religion; they are models of efficiency. The ecclesiastical furniture is so designed that it can be folded away in cupboards or rolled away behind a series of panels with speed and dignity when one denominational service is ended and another is ready to start. Thus the buildings are adapted to any form of worship, be it Protestant, Catholic, or Jewish. The Catholic altar, the Protestant pulpit, the Ark to hold the Jewish Book of Law will always be at hand yet never in view unless in actual use.

At a recent dedication ceremony at Camp Barkley, Texas, Lt. Colonel Mark T. Warner declared:

"Never before in the history of the United States have such strides been made in the advancement of religion among the men of the armed forces. These chapels bespeak the conviction of America that the defenses of the Republic are not material. They are mental and spiritual."

A symbolic dedication of all the chapels on the Post is planned for the afternoon of Wednesday, October 7, the program of which will appear in next week's issue.

"Time For Taps" May Be Broadcast By BBC

A new type of Army radio program, written and produced by the Press and Radio Office of the 83rd Division and originating in one of the camp's chapels, is scheduled to go on the air in the near future, according to 2nd Lt. Charles J. Allen,
Division Press and Radio Officer.

The program, to be called "It's Time For Taps," will be of the "revery with music" variety, with a narrator in the role of an average soldier thinking aloud as he turns in for the night, his thoughts blended with appropriate ballads sung to organ music.

Word has been received from London that the series has been enthusiastically approved by the British Broadcasting Co., with plans already under way for English broadcasts with Quentin Reynolds as narrator, according to Lt. Allen.

Consider Retaining
Nurses Who Marry

A new War Department policy, which would permit the retention in service of Army nurses who married while on active duty, is now under official consideration.

Under provisions of the proposed regulations, nurses could be discharged only at the discretion of the Surgeon General. Heretofore, when an Army nurse married, she was immediately relieved from active duty and returned to civilian status.

While exact figures are not available, it is believed the Army has lost a considerable number of nurses by marriage.

With every available nurse needed for military service, it would seem that the War Department will act quickly to insure that those who marry shall be kept on active duty—at least for the duration of the war.

No Camp Grid Team This Fall, Athletic Officer Announces

Sports Plans Curtailed By Lack Of Equipment

A shortage of athletic equipment and playing fields has curtailed so far the sports program for Camp Atterbury, and there will be no camp football team, according to 2nd Lt. Don A. Veller, Post Athletic Officer.

Football, basketball, softball, bats, boxing gloves and horseshoes have been ordered, but have not arrived. When the equipment arrives, it will be distributed among the organizations in camp.

In the interim, the various units are urged by Lt. Veller to buy as much equipment of their own as they possibly can.

FIELDS BUILT.
Work is being done preparing suitable athletic fields, and much of the work is being done by the WPA, under the direction of Merle Neece, civilian recreation leader.

So far, goal posts are up in several localities with signs designating specifically the athletic areas. Eight football and ten softball fields have been established so far.

Individual organizations are urged to cooperate in the construction and improving of their own athletic fields as much as possible.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULED.

A camp basketball team will be organized at a later date, in addition to numerous inter-unit teams. The latter teams will play in comprehensive league schedules covering the whole camp.

Tentative plans call for the camp team to play college teams.

QUARTERMASTER'S PIN MEN MAKE POOR START

The Quartermaster Officers' bowling team, composed of Maj. Frank T. McQueen, 1st Lts. Maurice O. Nordstrom, Robert S. Thomas, Oscar E. Dinnis, Harry Lerner and 2nd Lt. Harold K. Anderson, got off to a bad start in their opening league match at the Park-N-Bowl Alleys in Franklin by dropping two out of three games to the Franklin Baker's Motor Service, Wednesday night, September 16.

The QMC officers promise improvement in their future matches.

Lt. Lerner was high scorer with an individual game of 188 and high series with 445. The league will meet each Wednesday night for a 35-week schedule.

Butler vs. Indiana At Bloomington

The football teams of Butler and Indiana Universities will tangle Saturday, September 26, at the Indiana University Stadium. Admission to men in the service is 50 cents. Indiana University is in Bloomington, Ind., about 40 miles from Camp Atterbury.

BOXING

All men interested in boxing are requested to see or phone 2nd Lt. Don A. Veller, Post Athletics Officer at Building No. 115, "G" St. at 29th—Phone No. 2444.

73rd Hospital Promotions

The following promotions are announced in the 73rd General Hospital: To be Corporal—Pvt. 1st, Charlie L. McKenzie, Charles C. Eirth and Charles W. Hyatt and Pvt. Carl G. Fredericks.

F. O. (FOOT ODOR) DID YOU KNOW

1. It is caused by a germ.
2. It does not go away. You can't wash it off. You get rid of it by the odor and can't.
3. Get to two-ounce test bottle. Athlo solution. Apply full strength for sweat, itchy feet or Athletes Foot. Feet take hold. Itching stops almost instantly. Today at Franklin Pharmacy.

LT. VELLER PICKS SATURDAY WINNERS—MAYBE.

2nd Lt. Don Veller, former Indiana University football star and football coach at Elkhart, Ind., now director of athletics in the Post Special Service Office—volunteers the following winner selections for Saturday, September 26:

- Indiana over Butler.
- Shurtleff over Franklin.
- Notre Dame over Wisconsin.
- Cincinnati over Louisville.
- Cornell over Lafayette.
- Fordham over Purdue.
- Illinois over South Dakota.
- Great Lakes over Michigan.
- Ohio State over Fort Knox.
- Kentucky over Xavier.

Best games in this vicinity are: 1. Forham at Purdue—Lafayette, Indiana, is 90 miles from camp. 2. Butler at Indiana—Bloomington, Indiana, is 31 miles from camp. 3. Xavier at Kentucky—Lexington, Ky., is 150 miles from camp.

Guest Houses Visitors' Home

Rooms Provided For Enlisted Men's Folk

Two Guest Houses are now in operation for the expressed purpose of accommodating wives, parents and relatives of enlisted men. Officers are not permitted Guest House privileges.

The houses have 32 rooms each. Every room is furnished with two beds, a rug, mirror, chest of drawers and chair. The charge is 75 cents per day for each person.

A full-time housekeeper is on duty at each Guest House, and the management is under the direction of a Hostess.

One house is located opposite the main Post Exchange, at the corner of "Gatling" St. and 29th St. and the other one is one block west at Schoolhouse Road, and 29th St. Building numbers are 111 and 112.

Reservations should be made at the Guest House one week in advance, and guests cannot reserve a room for more than seven days in any one month.

FINANCE CHALLENGES ATTERBURY BOWLERS

The Finance Office Bowling team has issued its first call for opponents, feeling that some competitive exercise is just what it needs between periods of preparing the payroll for the personnel of the Camp.

Any bowler who can find four other ball-rollers in his unit need only phone 368, and ask for Pvt. Ralph Neiner. The time and place of the match will be arranged.

Other members of the Finance Office Bowling squad include Pts. Will Martin, Jim Lowry, Larry Ross, Bill Kleiber, Morris McNally and Al Fedor.

Pts. Lowry and Ross also double in euchre and pinochle, and are issuing a challenge in these games also. The same phone number, 368, will reach them, too.

113th Hospital Promotions

The following promotions are announced in the 113th Station Hospital: To be Technical Sergeant—St. S. Carl S. Clausen, Charles E. Gilbert, Hugh O. McCray and John W. Polkam. To be Staff Sergeant—Sgt. Robert A. Bergeron and Charles Thomas and Tech 4th Gr. 1st Lt. I. Whitsell.

To be Sergeant—Sps. David R. Davis and Wilbur H. Grier, and Tech 4th Gr. 4th Lt. E. W. Grier. To be Sergeant 4th Grade—Tech 5th Gr. John W. Reed and Thomas B. Sarvis.

Sports Arena To Be Center Of Activity

Has 2 Boxing Rings, 3 Basketball Courts

Building No. 110 is a number to remember because Camp Atterbury personnel will be seeing it often—it is the Sports Arena.

The arena is located at Gatling and 29th streets, diagonally opposite the main Post Exchange. It will be the center of activity for all units assembled on the post. Basketball, tennis, volley-ball, badminton, boxing, wrestling, gymnastics, tumbling and various other sports will take place in the arena.

The floor plan of the arena will consist of three basketball playing courts to be used only for league competition. The courts are of regulation size (90x50 feet), and the bank boards are of the new fan type, now being used in all new gymnasiums.

CAN SEAT 3,500.

In the exact center of the arena, another basketball court will be used for exhibition games only, so that teachers may be installed completely around the playing floor. The capacity of the bleachers is around 3,500 seats.

Exhibition basketball competition will include games with nearby colleges and army posts. The Atterbury post team will be composed of the best material the athletic department can obtain.

Two portable boxing rings will add variety to the sports program. There are lighting facilities for the use of one ring in the center of the arena, with surrounding bleachers. Fights will be held for camp championships after eliminations have been held in the smaller units.

There are also two volleyball courts at the end of the gymnasium. The interior of the building includes dressing rooms and showers for participants.

DIRECTOR IN CHARGE.

Heat will be supplied from a huge furnace in the rear of the building, forced through pipes by four circulating fans. Individual rooms will use smaller fans for heating purposes.

There is a full-time athletic director on duty at the Sports Arena—Merle Neece.

WHAT'S 13-MILE HIKE TO 83RD HEADQUARTERS?

Officers of the 83rd Division Headquarters proved their ruggedness this week when, after hiking 13 miles—the first long hike taken by the Headquarters staff—a number of them reported for their customary evening volleyball game, and played a pretty lively game, too, according to observers.

MAIL CALL GIVES WAY TO EFFICIENT BOOTH

The most welcome call in the army—Mail Call—has been abolished in Headquarters Section, 1560th Service Unit; but it has been replaced by a more efficient method of distribution, a mail booth, complete with a counter and pigeon-holes, where the men call at specified hours to get their mail. Pfc. William A. Rea is in charge. Assisting him are Pts. William P. Jones and Harry Herron.

UNCLAIMED

Two barracks bags containing personal belongings, marked Private George Lester, Serial No. 3332717, are unclaimed at the Transportation Branch Office, Building No. 97. Anyone knowing of the owner's whereabouts please contact the Transportation Office, phone number 673. Any baggage lost or overdue should be reported to this office.

1560TH ON PARADE

THEY'RE THE HOUSEKEEPERS—The 1560th Service Unit, made up of Headquarters Section, Military Police, Quartermasters, and Hospital Units, on duty as the administrative workers and housekeepers for Camp Atterbury took time out recently to march in their first parade past Major Charles Graverkemper, regimental commander. The parade was led by Capt. Art. H. Bristow, commanding the Headquarters Section.

75TH "GHOST TOWN" DISAPPEARS; CADRE HUSTLES UP PAY

The 75th General Hospital was activated August 31, 1942, with 53 "Yankees" and "Rebels" coming from either Billings, General Hospital, Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., or the Station Hospital, Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., composing the enlisted personnel.

Under the leadership of Capt. Robert H. Harvey and 1st Sgt. Fletcher H. Hall, many changes have been made in the barren "ghost town" which was the "75th" two weeks ago. There were the well known special details of opening up a mess hall, laying the temporary sidewalks, window cleaning, setting up the barracks, etc. The very important job of getting out a supplemental payroll, and payment, was accomplished. For this last feat the men give their First Sergeant a vote of thanks, some of them not having been paid in the last four months.

F. O. (FOOT ODOR) DID YOU KNOW

1. It is caused by a germ.
2. It goes through shoes. Your friends smell it. You get immune to the odor and can't.
3. Get a two-ounce test bottle Athlo solution. Apply full strength for sweaty, itchy feet or Athletes Foot. Feel it take hold. Itching stops almost instantly. Today at Franklin Pharmacy.

"PROVOKING" NO WORD FOR IT, SERGEANT

Of the veteran cavalrymen now "doughboys" in the 83rd Infantry Division, First Sgt. Martin Sobieralski is typical. Unlike most of the others, however, he refused to buy slacks, sticking to his cavalry boots and breeches for more than a month—until the government issue of khaki slacks was made.

The first morning after that, Sgt. Sobieralski appeared before Division Headquarters Company, resplendent in his glistening new long pants. But just as he was lining up the company for reveille, a worker's car shot by in the darkened company street—and mud ran rampant down his trousers' leg.

"Now, isn't that provoking!" murmured the veteran top-kick.

Reveals 60,000 Overseas

"Today more than 600,000 men of our armed forces are overseas," Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson revealed in a speech delivered recently at Muskegon, Mich. He said: "That force will be doubled and doubled and doubled to the limit of our manpower until we defeat our enemies."

Army Football Curtailed

When the Army football teams complete their present brief schedules, they will be disbanded and returned to the service, according to the statement of Secretary of War Stimson. He says no lengthy careers on athletic fields are possible with the need of the Army for every man it can use in the war game.

457th Versatile Aggregation

Submarine Makers, Artists On Roster

The seven officers and 20 enlisted men the cadre of the recently activated 457th Engineer Depot Company, claims many different and interesting civilian backgrounds. Cpl. Eddie Fish graduated from the Minneapolis Institute of Art. Sgt. Frankie Morton formerly made submarines at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. Cpl. Lloyd Sherrer is an all-around mechanic, a sign painter and typist. Cpl. Harry Frost once was a sewing machine repair man. MINER, TOO.

Sgt. Bill Gaghan used to do residential roofing in Philadelphia, Pa. Pfc. Moe Kaufman is a former semi-pro baseball player from New York. Pfc. Othmar Peter, a Hoosier, used to blast away in the Diamond coal mines back in Oscar Falls.

Staff Sgt. Nick Copobianco once managed the restaurant at the Hay-Adams hotel in Washington, D. C. He also fences like the "Son-of-Zorro." Supply Sgt. Russ Graham used to "zip 'em up" at Talon, Inc., the makers of zippers in Meadville, Pa. He also talks about logarithms and other mathematical facts with ease. Staff Sgt. Frank McGovern wants to return to "the old set" and see some of the "Roses," the doughboys are making into American beauties.

SERGEANT BUSY

Models, aircraft, ordnance, arm, motor vehicles, etc., keep Staff Sgt. Harry Stowman up late at night. Half the reads in Manistique, Mich., were built by Cpl. Matt Weber.

Pfc. Willie Betts travels by air on every opportunity. Staff Sgt. Willie Salsgiver used to be an M. P. back in York, Pa. Staff Sgt. Leroy Rang used to put 'em together at the Hancover Shoe Co. in Pennsylvania. Master Sergeant Sam Miller graduated from Girard College in Philadelphia.

Sergeant in 329th Married, Promoted

Promotion of Sgt. Joseph C. Sontag, a former member of the 14th Cavalry, Ft. Riley, Kans., to the rank of staff sergeant has been announced by the 329th Infantry, 83rd Division.

Sgt. Sontag is among the camp's newest grooms, having been married two weeks ago to Miss Bernice A. Roland, of Minneapolis, Minn.

Clair P. Wilson has been promoted from private first class to corporal. He is a member of the 329th medical detachment and was transferred from the 1301st Service Unit, New Cumberland, Pa. His home is in Dormont, Pa.

Pvt. Jessie W. Sneed, a member of Company C, has been promoted to corporal. He is from Lebanon, Va.

Pvt. Frank Plotczk has been made a corporal. A member of the 329th medical detachment, he entered the service at Baltimore, Md.

FOUND—Keyholder and keys belonging to Albert J. Schwaebler, in vicinity of Camp Atterbury. Owner may call at Internal Security and Intelligence Division "Provo" Matchless Office, Camp Atterbury.

72ND HOSPITAL WELCOMES COLONEL

Commanding officer of the recently re-activated 72nd General Hospital is Col. Milton I. Strahl, who hails from New York City. He was last stationed at Carlisle Barracks, Pa.

The personnel of the unit extend heartiest congratulations and the best of luck to their new commander. The boys of the 72nd say, "We'll be in there pitching with you, Colonel."

Thanks are also extended to Maj. Walter H. Stubenrauch, who so untiringly carried on as commanding officer until the arrival of Col. Strahl.

The versatile medics of the 72nd have just accomplished the building of a handsome and sturdy bridge that they feel even would be an envy of the Engineers. The boys from Billings, Fitzsimmons, and Camp Davis are digging in together and working as a happy family.

72nd Hospital Promotions

Promotions announced in the 72nd General Hospital include: To be staff sergeant—George J. Aloisio, Daniel T. Crisp, Claude E. Landreth, Irwin S. Leibenhaut and Raymond R. Piechhonka; to be sergeant—Robert D. Moor; to be corporal—John T. Brady, Edward B. Renner and Esmer Smith.

Weathers, of Battery A; Jessie E. Jones, of Battery D; Clarence H. Schwankl, of Battery C, and Frank A. Grunewald, of Headquarters Battery.

"Now I Know Why They Asked Me If I Was Married."
(by Pvt. Harry Packer, 74th General Hospital)

Lt. Norris First Wed in 331st Chapel

Distinction of being the first married in the recently completed 331st Regimental Chapel of the 83rd Division is held by 2nd Lt. Thomas R. Norris, of the 331st Infantry. He was married to Miss Audrey Benge of Indianapolis, Sept. 6.

Chaplain Clarkson of the 331st Infantry officiated, the ceremony being his first since entering the Army. 2nd Lt. Frank D. Cahan was best man. The couple will reside in Indianapolis.

Lt. Norris is the son of Mrs. Julia A. Norris, of Berlog, Mo. He was inducted at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., and is a graduate of Western Military Academy and Missouri State University.

3 OLDTIMERS COME BACK TO SERVICE

AN OLD RETIRED ENGINE, long left rusting on a sidetrack, and a veteran engineer and fireman, both of whom had long since passed the three score mark in age, were called out of retirement to take on the mammoth job of switching the many carloads of materials at the camp warehouses. And they are doing a great job of it, according to Capt. Charles G. Boatright, chief of the Transportation branch, himself a railroader for 30 years.

With his assistant, 1st Lt. O. M. Nordstrom, who also has had 30 years in railroading, they obtained Engine 2490, which had been retired by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

To man it they found a group of men, all of whom are veterans of either the Spanish-American or World War I: Harry E. Krause, 66 years old, of Indianapolis, Ind., with 40 years of railroading; Engineer Bradford Ingle, 75 years old, of Indianapolis, 49 years of experience; Fireman Jack Love, 63 years old, of Indianapolis, 37 years with the rail service; Yardman David C. Williams, 55 years old, of Morgantown, Ind., 22 years experience; Yardman Millard C. Jones, of Scipio, Ind., 23 years in the business.
