Judges List Winners For Major Bowes' Hour

Get Your Estate Chart, Fill It Out Fully, Save Time, Worry

Estate charts are now available to all military personnel. These charts which should be held by your beneficiary contains, when properly filled out, all the information necessary to gather together assets and records which your dependents will need to obtain benefits to which they are entitled in case of your injury or death.

In addition, the estate chart is an excellent guide for military personnel in their efforts to collect information pertinent to themselves.

Bound at the top, in a single grey folder, each chart contains blanks for minute information on your United States Government Insurance or your National Service Life Insurance, Social Security Benefits, Other Monthly Income, with a total (continued on page 4, column 5)

Maj. R. DuChaine Is Well Qualified For His New Duty

Freeman's new deputy for training and operations, Major Robert J. DuChaine, is typical of the young men who entered the Army Air Forces before America's entry into the war. Rising step by step to his present capacity, his experience in flying

What To Wear "Bogey" Haunts GI Joe, Jane

Beginning Sunday things are going to be complicated for GI Joe and Jane at Freeman Field.

Ever since last spring the matter of getting dressed and what to wear has been comparatively simple. You donned your GI uniformables, reached up for a khaki uniform, cap and tie to match and that was that. You were dressed. No fuss, no bother, no trying to figure if you had hit the right combination for the day ahead. The army did your thinking for you.

What to Wear.

But now it'll be different. Orders issued from headquarters this week make the wearing of the summer and winter uniforms optional from October 1 until further notice. The possibilities that arise from this order are almost tremendous. It's almost like being back in civilian life and going through all that mental torture each morning of choosing the right tie or accessories to go with neatly arranged on the rack above his bunk. There's a slight nip in the air as the dawn comes up like thunder out of the east. It's all very confusing. He tries to decide what uniform to wear. He could be a stick-in-the-mud and slip into his summer uniform as he has been doing all summer, but it might remain chilly for the rest of the day. So he does some more thinking. He could wear the OD shirt and trousers. Then he could put on his khaki shirt, OD trousers and top the whole outfit with a blouse. But maybe that would be getting too dressed up. Another possibility would be wearing the GI long-johns with the khaki uniform over them.

At this point his mind becomes so confused as to what to wear that he has to close his eyes for a minute to think it over. And then he lapses off to sleep. And then the CO comes through the barracks and finds him doing some sack time instead of standing

Negro Baritone Wins Top Spot In Competition

It was a close decision and the judges had a difficult time selecting the best performers, but after careful weighing of all the talent which appeared in the final auditions last Monday night, three acts were chosen to represent Freeman Field in the Major Bowes coast-to-coast broadcast on Thursday, October 12.

Unanimously acclaimed as the best singer on the program, Pfc. Clyde W. Bagley of Section F walked away with top honors with his baritone rendition of "Tramp, Tramp". Bagley's voice is a natural and he has had comparatively little training. His rich vocal tones were reminiscent of Nelson Eddy, the baritone motion picture and opera star. Bagley sang with the Agricultural and Technical School of North Carolina glee club and had made several appearances with choral groups in and near his native city of Dur-

Freeman Graduate Awarded DFC

Hero of a real life dramatization of the popular song hit, "Coming in on a Wing and a Prayer", is Lt. William S. Bruce of Guilford Center.

... who received wings and commission as second lieutenant at Freeman Field in December.

His plane hit and severely damaged in action over France on August 14. Lt. Bruce piloted the badly crippled ship back to base in England and a safe landing. He has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, according to word received here this week.

Lt. Bruce's co-pilot suffered a leg injury when the plane was hit, but Lt. Bruce was not hurt, his wife, Mrs. Vyrilin Avery Bruce, was advised.

Mrs. Bruce made her home in Seymour while the officer was training as a cadet here.

Major Robert J. DuChaine training activities belies his youthful appearance.

PAC Clyde Phipps of Group 6, Squadron 1 is the other man who will appear on the Major Bowes program. Phipps' vibraphone solo ran Bagley a close second. Following up in third place are Sgt. Edwin Klocko and Cpl. Emile Acitelli of the 705th AAF Band who offered a clarinet duet. The number they selected was a Polish polka played in harmony.

The show at the post theater Monday night came as the climax of two weeks of auditions and seeding out of more than seventy-five hopefuls who tried out for the show. Ted Mack, who acted as master of ceremonies in the (Continued on page 4, column 4)

THE CHAPLAIN CHATS

By CHAPLAIN McGUIRE

Every soldier, every true American, admires courage and bravery. When we hear about a Don Gentile, or a Butch O'Hare, we are naturally thrilled and secretly wish that we were just as courageous. We are all agreed that they should receive the highest decorations as recognition of their heroic actions.

Yet there are other forms of bravery which will never be recognized in any but a spiritual way; forms of courage which deserve just as much praise. Specifically I speak of moral courage and bravery.

There's the fellow who says "no" when he knows that "no" is the only answer to give. The man who says "no":

- to the foul-mouthed fellow who comes up with "want to hear the new dirty story I picked up in town?"
- to the comrade whose only idea of fun is getting "boiled", when he asks him to go along.
- to the indecent girl who would make him unworthy of his wife, or make him unworthy of the girl he intends to make his wife and mother of his children.
- Then there is the man who has the courage to do what he knows ought to be done:
- to say his prayers without shame and without ostentation even though the barracks bully laughs.
- to attend his church services on Sundays and special festival days even though there is a great inclination to "goof off."
- to act in time of war as a religious man is expected to act in time of peace. War, he knows, does not repeal the Ten Commandments.

Services To Mark World Communion

Observance of a world-wide communion Sunday will be held at two services, 8:30 and 10:30 a. m., this Sunday at the Chapel-by-the Gym.

About four years ago the Federal Council of Churches, which represents forty-three separate denominations, set aside one particular day in the year on which they all observe the Lord's Supper by the serving of communion. The day so named was the first Sunday in October, which this year is Sunday, October 1.

"It is significant," said Chaplain Phillips B. Henderson, "to know that millions of persons in all nations believe in Christ and that this Sunday they will express that faith together through the Memorial of Christ. Let us join our fellow Christians and brothers in arms by taking part in the service Sunday," he urged. Chaplain Russell M. Hall will conduct the services in Chapel No. 1 this Sunday. Chaplain Henderson will be in Evansville, Ind., on Sunday acting as best man for Lt. Harry Womeldorf who is to be married to Miss Ruth Newcom.

HOW COME THE NEWS

By PROGNOSTICATOR

The tough battle for Festung, Germany is being rapidly joined on all fronts.

Starting in the Baltic states the majority of German troops have been evacuated from Estonia and Latvia with Lithuania being slowly cleared. The battle for East Prussia, Warsaw and Cracow is really in defense of Germany proper. It will not be easily won. In the west the Siegfried line is not an easy barrier to cross and is giving us all kinds of trouble. When it is breached we still have the strong natural barrier of the Rhine river. The British 2nd Army has not been successful in breaching the Rhine in the North and therefore our airborne army in Holland hard put to maintain itself. It may be in for a serious test with this army near Antwerp which would boost Nazi morale unmeasurably. To us it would be only a temporary setback but nevertheless a bitter pill to swallow.

prominence in football, basketball, track and hockey and in his senior year received the "best athlete" award. He took post graduate work at Ann Arbor High school and later attended the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and Michigan Tech, Houghton.

Completing his primary training at Spartan school, Muskogee, Okla., Major DuChaine moved on to Randolph Field, Texas, for basic training and in May 1941 received his wings and commission as a second lieutenant at Barksdale Field, La. He remained at Barksdale as an instructor and later was assigned to Columbus, Miss.

Major DuChaine came to Freeman in February, 1943 and served as a flight commander and member of the advisory training board until he became post operations officer in June of last year. As deputy for training and operations he succeeds Major William B. Poe who left last week for assignment at Smyrna, Tenn.

Gen. Butler Leaves Command of EFTC

Maj. Gen. William O. Butler, former commanding general of the AAF Eastern Flying Training Command, with headquarters at Maxwell Field, Ala., has departed for a new assignment of undisclosed nature, it was announced this week.

Brig. Gen. William S. Gravely who recently became commanding general of Maxwell Field and the 74th Flying Training Wing with headquarters there, temporarily assumes command of EFTC.

In a letter to Col. E. T. Rundquist, commanding officer of Freeman Field, Gen. Butler expressed his appreciation for the efforts in support of policies set forth during his tour of duty as commanding general of the EFTC. "I have found this command well written Gen. Butler, to be one of the best organized and best run in the Army Air Forces, and believe that this success is due in a large measure to the leadership of the station and wing commanders and their personnel.

"Convey also to the members of your command my sincere appreciation for their efficient efforts in discharging the duties assigned to them," he concluded. Gen. Butler came from the European theater of operations to take command of EFTC on August 18 of this year. Previously he had received the Legion of Merit for services as chief of staff of the 4th Air Force and later as commanding general of the 11th Air Force in Alaska.

Twin-dad Says

Twin-Dad came up with the prediction that we would have —to admit that he is faithful to his wife or to the girl back home and that he has no time for the woman who offer men an evil caricature of love.

I admire a man who is brave in battle; I am proud of the aviator, daring in the air. But I am just as proud of the man who is brave among his fellow men in the barracks; my hat is off to them because we all know the courage it takes to keep one's ideals high and one's principles firm all year 'round.

How about a little bravery like that? It's the true courage.

Bread and Butter Flyers

Regardless of Hollywood dramatics there is no hit or miss technique in flying an airplane skillfully. It is a business, all the way from the briefing before takeoff to the final roll of the wheels on landing.

Almost all pilots have seen a veteran flyer cutting didoes in the sky. That guy, it is the common opinion, is really hot, he is a seat-of-the-pants-pilot. And brother, how wrong that common opinion is. If the pilot is a veteran flyer he is probably a professional, flying is his job, his bread and butter.

Flying to him is a technique that has taken hundreds of hours to perfect. His perfection is developed in the same manner as that of a surgeon who carves scores of animals before making his first incision in a patient. A skilled surgeon spends several years of practice and thought learning his job. A skilled pilot spends several hundred hours of practice and thought before he effortlessly flies by what is called the seat of his pants but by what is really precision perfection backed by thought and knowledge.

Airplanes have no opinions, airplanes can't think. This is where the pilot fits in—he must do the thinking. It is thinking ability that enables the pilot to be complete master of his ship. When he stops thinking and applies a false conception such as seat-of-the-pants-flying he no longer is master of his airplane and eventually it will take its toll in crash and injury, perhaps death.

Seat-of-the-pants-flying may seem dramatic in the movies. But the movies are make-believe. They have nothing to do with the profession of flying as practiced by bread and butter flyers. Professionals find their drama in flying with the minimum of risk and the maximum of safety possible on any given mission.

Netmen Risk Perfect Season At Indianapolis

Blue Devils Thump Malden Nine, 12-6 in Season Encore

Jumping to an early 10-0 lead, Freeman Field's Blue Devils moved to an easy 12-6 win here Friday in a post-season contest with Malden, Missouri's barn-burning AAF nine.

The visitors stole an 11-10 base advantage, but failure to catch six Freeman walks and simple base hits as effectively prevented them from offering any serious threat.

Freeman teed off with five runs in the first inning, and Baughman, hurling his second game in four days, was retired in the third when the Devils came up with five more. Sanborn who took up the pitching for the visitors showed signs of wildness, but steadied and managed to survive.

Ed Gittens, first sacker, set the pace for Freeman with three hits on four trips. Catcher Al Schwartz and Shortstop Sol Madrid, who again treated with some nifty sliding, picked up the cadence, contributing two safeties each.

Malden's big gun was Third baseman Woldt, who banged out an assortment of three hits including a double and a homerun with one aboard in the seventh.

Good luck continued to haunt Freeman's Draxic who belted the

Freeman Officers Clinch Golf Titles As Only EM Bows

Commissioned officers will be crowned champions in all flights of Freeman's Open Golf Tournament now in progress—that much was already decided as first round matches were slated to be completed by Wednesday.

Sgt. John Gaudaskas, sole enlisted entry and contender for championship flight honors, was eliminated four up and two to go by Lt. Walker in one of the first matches to be played as competition got under way.

Completing the field in the championship flight were Lt. Waterman and Capt. Stainton, whose qualifying scores were also in the 77 to 81 bracket. The winner will meet Lt. Walker for the

The match may be the last of the season for the locals who were handicapped in practices this week by chilly weather.

It was No. 5 and No. 6 for the Superbombers last week as they handed the Pastime Club of Louisville its worst whipping in five years there last Thursday—a 7-2 lambasting—repeating 7-3 in a return engagement here Sunday. The double kill settled accounts for a twin loss to the Kentuckians last season.

A full gallery witnessed Sunday's matches on the post courts as Lt. Vic Seixas, Freeman ace and ranking national luminary, stroked his way to an easy 6-2, 6-0 win over Jack Schulze in the No. 1 singles match, then teamed with Lt. Gordon Snow to down Ed Buchart-Capt. Maddox, a recent transfer from Napier Field, made his first appearance in a Blue Devils uniform, handling the keystone sack chores ably and going the full route. Resorting mainly to his blazing ball, Pitcher Jim Higgins was good for all 11 Malden hits but in them well scattered and used a single free pass.

EM Initiate Grid Season Next Week With 10 Teams In Touch Loop Chase

The whistle and there's the kickoff—a long end-over-end boot deep into the heart of every red-blooded Freeman football fan. The 1944 season's on.

Ten teams will take the field next Thursday in the Enlisted Men's Touch Football League and every Tuesday and Thursday thereafter will see five razzle-dazzle games played until one round is completed.

The four top teams will then participate in championship playoffs, No. 1 meeting No. 3 and No. 2 engaging No. 4, the winners matching wits and brawn in a single game to decide the season champions.

Quoted even money favorites at the start are all ten teams including A Wolves, B Woodmen, C-1 Flashes, C-2 Spartans, C-2 Red Nосers, C-3 Bearkats, Gp 5 Pac Horses, Gp 6 Pac Mules, E Medics and B-O Helicopters.

The schedule follows:
 Thursday, October 5
 A Wolves vs. B Woodmen.
 C-1 Flashes vs. C-2 Spartans.
 C-2 Red Nосers vs. C-3 Bearkats.
 Gp 5 Pac Horses vs. Gp 6 Pac Mules.
 E Medics vs. B-O Helicopters.
 Tuesday, October 10
 A Wolves vs. B-O Helicopters.
 B Woodmen vs. E Medics.

held title.

In the only second flight match contested, Capt. Mosley advanced to the semi-finals by virtue of a three up and two to go decision over Lt. Noel. Other pairings in the second flight included Maj. DuChaine vs. Capt. Davis, Lt. McCormack vs. Lt. Ferrell, and Capt. Olson vs. Lt. Knothe.

Both finalists were determined in the third and final flight as Maj. Miller won over Capt. Doyle and Lt. Sanford defeated Lt. Biller by five holes after their first match ended in a tie score.

Second round matches must be completed by Saturday with championships in all flights to be decided next week.

Open Tennis Meet Starts This Week

Competition will get under way in Freeman's Open Tennis Tournament as first round pairings were announced this week by Lt. Lewis Hilley, field athletic and recreation officer.

Seeded in opposite brackets are Lts. Vic Seixas and Gordon Snow, respectively No. 1 and No. 2 ranking members of Freeman's undefeated net team.

Competing in the upper bracket are Lt. Vic Seixas vs. Capt. Ernest Elston, Capt. John Garrison vs. Maj. Norman Wood, Capt. Julian Wishik vs. Lt. Bert Close, Pfc. Alfred Stair vs. Lt. Leo Schuhmann.

Consoling Thought

Loyal Freeman baseball fans are pulling hard for the Detroit Tigers to cop the American League flag and go on to win the World Series from the St. Louis Cardinals, who have already sewed up the National League race.

For a world title for the Tigers would boost the stock of the Blue Devils who led the American League contenders for eight thrill-packed innings in a spring exhibition contest.

The Detroiters came from behind to knot the count at 3—all in the ninth and in the tenth inning opened up with their heavy artillery to blast out a 9-5 decision.

Strange Bedfellow.

London (CNS)—Pvt. Bert Sath of Tacoma, Wash., a paratrooper who fought in Sicily and the Normandy beachhead without receiving a scratch, has been returned to London for hospitalization as the invasion's odd-casualty. A cow fell on him in a foxhole.

JAG OCS Reopens To Qualified Men

Applications for enrollment in the tenth class of the Judge Advocate General Officer candidate school, beginning November 20, are now being accepted from qualified warrant officers and enlisted men.

Although definite quotas will be allotted stations throughout the country, transmittal of applications to Washington will not be held up or delayed pending receipt of the quota.

The selection board of the Judge Advocate General's Office will require two to four weeks to complete necessary investigation and evaluation of professional and other qualifications of each applicant after which he will be promptly notified of his are taught Mr. Charles H. Resiner, a make-up man for 35 years at the Seymour Tribune, by Cpl. Helen Courtney of the Twingine Times' staff. Finding it difficult to read type in the conventional up-side down manner, the Wac corporal whipped out her handbag mirror and made the difficult job an easy one. The 35 year man never saw it done exactly that way before.

Lt. Martha T. Riley, WAC CO For 16 Months Is Transferred

The first Wac to set foot in Freeman Field, Lt. Martha T. Riley, has this week been transferred to Tyndall Field, Fla.

Up to September 1, Lt. Riley was commanding officer of the WAC Section here. At that time she was sent on detached service to Cooks' and Bakers' School, Maxwell Field, Ala.

She knew to load was to do to first. There was nothing all she would ask of her men that she would not do first the best of her ability. She left PT in the morning, and did for a solid day last New Year to the surprise of everyone. When they played softball will be promptly selected or rejection.

The ninth class which is now in session at Ann Arbor, Michigan, will graduate on January 14, 1945. The next class, for which applications are now being accepted, begins November 20 and continues until March 17, 1945.

Those wishing to make application for the Judge Advocate General's school and who believe they have the necessary qualifications are urged to contact Lt. Anna Bullock in the personnel office, post headquarters.

Section B

By Tomas

A CO was walking by a day room where he discovered the boys engaged in a game of chance. Arriving in the orderly room he instructed the first sergeant to break up the card game. The matter slipped his mind until later in the day, when he saw the first sergeant coming into the orderly room. "Did you break up the card game?" asked the CO. "Yes Sir," replied the top kick. "What in hell took you so long?" queried the CO, to which the six striper replied, "I drew poor cards at first, but I finally got hot."

Now that the PAC's are settled in Section B, they act like veterans of our big happy family.

Donations will be accepted on payday to purchase a pre-war alarm clock for Bill Simmons—Someone has to open the day room early in the morning as Bill is a late riser. Jack Leventhal, the man with the cigar, draws the name of "Indianapolis Kid." Ed Epstein, member of the old group, still patronizes the dayroom . . . Oh well, his money is good!

Tom O'Brien, after a brief stay in New York, is back to the old routine formations, PT, Link, and dayroom pleasures. . . Isn't this the life, Tom? Vic King, mentor of last year's football team which brought home the championship, will again take over the squad this year. Things will get underway this week.

Here's hoping for a winner this year —

705th Band

For winning a pass to New York plus piles of moola, we offer congrats and wish lots of luck to Sgt. Erwin Klocko and Cpl. Emile Acitelli. The duo is one of the three acts that will represent Freeman Field on a future Major Bowes program.

Reports of skirmishes from the Stair-Pines sector have come in. Tuesday morning reports from the region told of the enemy's invasion, air borne mattresses and bitter fighting.

We've been hearing things about "Commando" Stair. It seems as though little Al got mixed up in the manpower shortage problem and several Indianapolis gals helped him solve it last Sunday.

T/Sgt. (spouse here, but going back to Jersey City tomorrow) Radian began plunking on the eighty-eight about three or four months ago, as we remember, and now is quite proficient (???) despite what "certain hecklers" say (Ed's note: This is too much—apple polishing is O. K. Wallen, but don't, don't call that guy a proficient pianist player.)

From all indications Cpl. Bob Kelly is dead bent on acquiring a body beautiful. He's still taking instructions in gymnastics from "Muscles" Liachoff.

Freeman Graduate Is Interned In Germany

Lt. Faye C. Bailey, a graduate of Freeman Field, who was reported to have been missing in action since August 14, is now a prisoner of Germany, according to word received by his wife this week.

A friend of Lt. Bailey who was flying in the same mission wrote Mrs. Bailey that he saw the plane go out of control over the Brenner Pass and that he had seen ten parachutes leave the plane, indicating that all crew members had jumped safely.

Clubmobile Tale

Capturing a field mouse the other day, a couple of Tom Sawyers in fatigues decided to have some fun at the expense of the ladies who serve coffee and doughnuts from the clubmobile.

Tying a string on the hapless rodent's tail they allowed him to scamper across the floor of the clubmobile. As was to be expected, the ladies screamed and tried to make a hurried exit. All but one, perhaps it was Mrs. Norman Wood, who may have been a schoolteacher and understood the workings of a small boy's mind. Casting the pranksters a withering look she proceeded to lecture them on cruelty to animals.

Somewhat abashed the GI's beat a hasty retreat, even forgetting to grab a handful of doughnuts in their flight.

Civilian Employees Hold Bingo Party Next Friday

A bingo party sponsored by the Civilian Employees Association of Freeman Field will be held at consolidated mess hall No. 1 next Friday night at 8 p. m. Admission is fifty cents and the party is open to all who care to attend.

Both cash and War Bond prizes will be given players holding winning cards. Grand prizes of a $50 and $25 War Bond will be given in addition to the individual $5 prize for each game. Refreshments and sandwiches will be served.

New Life Suits for Seamen.

New York (CNS)—The Merchant Marine has devised a new one-piece rubber suit for shipwrecked seamen—a suit that covers everything but the sailor's face. Made of synthetic rubber, it is worn over all regular clothing including the life belt.

five dollars a day for rations and receive fifty dollars for appearing on the nationwide broadcast. The broadcast will be aired over the Columbia Broadcasting System on Thursday, October 12 at 9 p. m. EWT (8 p. m. Seymour time) and at that time Major Bowes will offer a salute to Freeman Field.

Thirteen acts will divide the $115 prize money offered to those who appeared on the show, but were not chosen to appear on the broadcast. Originally the amount to be divided was set at $100 but because of the unusual amount of talent that turned out the sum was raised fifteen dollars. Individual checks are being mailed from the Major Bowes office in New York and those who placed in the final standings will receive them in a short time.

Pvt. Lucille Brooks, the vocalist and guitarist won $20. Pvt. Levin Lansdown of Section F, $20, Sgt. Lisle Chatham of Section C-2 received $10 for his scat singing and guitar playing. Pvt. Madeline Darby of the WAC took a $10 prize for vocalizing. Pvt. Elmore Allain of Section B-0 also received $10. The jitterbug team of PAC Clyde Phipps and Ann Kramer won ten dollars too.

Winning five dollars apiece were PAC Charles Brown, baritone; A/C Harry Coker, pianist; Pvt. William Polo, Section C-1, vocal; S/Sgt. Fred McCandless, Section A, vocal; Pvt. Cecil Naniel, Section F, vocal; Mr. Fred Haney, civilian employee, and Pvt. George Gruber, Section C-1, vocal.

against the wags of other in the team would not budge. Lt. Riley was in the bleachers.

When her brother, first James Riley, a parachutist, was killed a few months ago in action in India, Lt. Riley went with her work, never saying anything about it—expecting sympathy.

From Lexington, Ky., Lt. Riley was a member of the Versailles, Ky., high school football team prior to entering the WAC, September, 1942. She attended OCS, after basic training she was a commanding officer at Des Moines, Ia., before reporting to Freeman.

Lt. Elizabeth Houpt who arrived at Freeman Field with Lt. Riley, has taken over the duties of WAC CO. Before that she was supply and mess officer of the section, and is a graduate of Mess Officers' school.
