PACS ACHIEVE PERMANENT PARTY STATUS

Freak Weather conditions turned Freeman Field into a winter wonderland last week as ramps and runways were transformed into ice rinks. Shown here taking advantage of the "freeze" are Lts. Richard McGehee and Henry Michalski, Flight 4 instructors.

Furloughs of 90 Days --But Not for You, Joe

Furloughs of 90 days were granted three Freeman Field enlisted men last week to relieve manpower shortages in essential war industries.

Pfc. Melvin P. Player, Section A, and Pvt. Rufus Minton, Section C-3, were granted extended leave to work in the cotton duck industry at Alabama City, Ala., while Pfc. Hershel L. Grady, also of Section C-3, was placed on temporary duty with the tire industry in Akron, Ohio.

Authority for the action was contained in separate letters from the Adjutant General's Office in Washington, D. C., through Fifth Service Command headquarters at Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio.

Minton and Player were employed as loom fixers for the Dwight Manufacturing Company of Alabama City for periods of 17 and 18 years, respectively, prior to entering the service, while Grady was a truck tire builder for the Seiberling Rubber Company of Akron.

Minton and Player enlisted in the army at Fort McPherson, Ga., within three days of one another in the fall of 1942. Minton is classified as an airplane mechanic, having completed a course in mechanics here last December, while Player was assigned as an MP.

Grady, who attended airplane mechanics' school at Seymour Johnson Field, N. C., following his induction in August, 1942, was engaged as an airplane and engine mechanic.

Man Shortage Given Reason For Transfer

Transfer to permanent party status of approximately 4,000 enlisted men of the Eastern Flying Training Command who have been earmarked for aircrew training and were serving as student airplane mechanics, was announced last week by Brig. Gen. W. S. Gravely, commanding general, effective January 1, 1945.

Freeman Field personnel affected by the order were informed of the change at a convocation last Friday in the post theater. Col. E. T. Rundquist, post commander, spoke briefly after which the official announcement was read in its entirety by Lt. Col. William N. Cox, deputy for administration and services, and printed copies distributed to each individual.

The transfer to permanent party, a term which applies to maintenance or administrative personnel who perform duties necessary for the operation of the is a result of the acute manpower shortage and the necessity to utilize the abilities and energies of every available man to the fullest extent, Gen. Gravely said.

Known as "on-the-line" trainees or pre-aviation cadets, these enlisted men had been selected for training to pre-flight school on a seniority basis. They served as student airplane mechanics on flight lines of flying schools to "learn by doing."

A statement from Lt. Gen. Barton K. Yount, commanding general of the AAF training command with headquarters at Fort Worth, Tex., emphasized that the transfer to permanent party will in no way alter a man's opportunity to enter aircrew training.

"You will be assigned to stations and duties where you can accomplish the most for the war effort until it is your turn to go to pre-flight school and proceed with your aircrew training," Gen. Yount's statement said. "At that time, barring unforeseen changes in the over-all war situation, you will be transferred out of the permanent party and into pre-flight school."

The transfer was directed by Army Air Forces headquarters in Washington, D. C.

To School Colonel E. T. Rundquist,

Freeman Field, will leave this week-end for Orlando, Fla., where he will pursue a 12-day Senior Officers' course at the AAF School of Applied Tactics. During the absence of Colonel Rundquist, Lt. Col. Howard W. Williams, assistant air base commander, will be in command.

USO Show Stars All Colored Cast

Under the auspices of USO-Camp Shows, Inc., "Well, All Right", a variety revue featuring Harlem headliners, will give two performances at the post theatre tonight at 6:30 and 8:30.

Heading the list of professional performers is Roscoe Dyle, tap dancer and master of ceremonies. Also featured in the five jamboree are Herbie Cowens, red hot and low down drummer; Laurel Watson, acclaimed "the best blues singer Count Basie's band ever had"; Spic and Span, novelty song and dance team; George Williams, stage and comedy veteran; and Alice Tyson, who heads a chorus of dancers and doubles as vocalist.

Pianist and musical conductor with the troupe is Norman Lester.

Col. Rundquist Awards Posthumous Air Medal

Col. E. T. Rundquist, post commander, officiated Dec. 28 at a posthumous awarding of the Air Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster to an AAF gunner killed last June in aerial action over Europe.

The presentation was made in the colonel's office to Mr. Irvin Tungeit, father of the late Sgt. Charles W. Tungeit.

Civilian War Loan Drive Goes "Over The Top" in Final Push

In a final spurge forward, civilian personnel nosed across the goal line this week to put their Sixth War Loan drive here over the top, filling 100.3% of their over-all quota.

With less than a week remaining in the drive, the $62,000 quota was 20.4% short, but final tabulations show a total of $62,208.75 turned in from cash purchases and pay allotments.

At the outset of the campaign, civilian employees were divided into 25 groups, each having a minute man, who was in charge of his individual group's sales. Quotas were set for each section, and the percentages were published weekly in the civilian bulletin.

THE CHAPLAIN CHATS

By CHAPLAIN HALL

Colonel G. S. Clarke, one of the defenders of Bataan, in writing of his experience said, "I left Bataan five minutes before capitulation to the Japanese, just as General King was advancing in his jeep with the white flag of surrender. I had plenty of time to read my New Testament on the submarine in the long, wakeful hours, where day was turned into night. I read and re-read my little Testament until it became what I call an automatic Bible. I had opened it at the 116th Psalm so often that it just automatically opens now at that particular page at the merest touch."

Chaplain R. M. Hall

Col. Clarke knew his Bible and his God and he knew how to pray. "I was positive that I was coming home on April 2, 1942 (Bataan fell on April 9). I believe firmly in the power of prayer, and my prayer was answered in a way that was strange."

This Masterpiece of all literature is in nearly every American home and has been carried by thousands of soldiers on their pilgrimage for peace. It has refreshed their soul on the weary journey. It must be understood to be loved, but divine knowledge must be loved to be understood."

If you would gather precious jewels from this book of treasure, then remember that it is the means by which God chose to reveal Himself to man, and in it you will find God. It contains sixty-six letters that God has written to you, so read them as you would any letter from a loved one. When you get a letter, do you read page three first and a few days later turn back and read page one? Also, read it slowly and thoughtfully for "butterflies cover more ground, but bees gather more honey."

"Whoever hears these sayings of mine, and does them, shall be like unto a wise man who built his house upon a rock: The rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon the house; and it fell not: for it was built upon a rock."—Jesus in Matthew's Gospel.

Freeman Jumps March of Dimes Starting Signal

In cooperation with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which is again initiating a fund raising appeal, Freeman military and civilian personnel will be given an opportunity to participate in the "March of Dimes."

Although the "March of Dimes," which has been held for a number of years in connection with President Roosevelt's birthday on January 30, does not officially open until January 14, contributions have already been made by the enlisted personnel here. Leaving the pay tables December 31, they voluntarily turned over a total of $277.44 to the drive. Section C heads the list with $133.55, Section B rating second place with $53.74. Other section contributions were as follows:

Section A	17.78
Section H	17.74
Section F	16.00
Section D	15.00
Section E	8.30
Section A-1	6.45
Unit Hqs.	4.61
Weather and AACs	4.27

Donations from officers are also being accepted through the finance office. Incomplete figures add up to $23.42. Plans are now underway for the civilian campaign which will commence on January 14 and extend through January 31. All will be given the chance to voluntarily take part in this fund raising appeal.

Report from a FOOT SOLDIER

By S/Sgt. Ed Squitieri

"You men are all trainees," said the captain, "and during your training period there will be no such thing as rank. All of you, from master sergeants on down, will pull KP, guard duty and latrine orderly."

That was how we were welcomed to Camp Howze, Tex., on Sunday after a long tedious trip from Freeman.

Practically everyone in Seymour knew when we were leaving and almost what route the train was to take. But instead of leaving at 0800 and joining a troop movement at Lockbourne, Ohio, the army disappointed the wiseacres as we left at 0530 to meet the train which had come from Lockbourne.

We were under way at 0700 and by 1245 we had reached Mitchell, Ind., a distance of some 40 miles! The whole trip was like that, stop and go. We arrived in St. Louis late at night, went to sleep in our Pullman berths and when we awoke the next morning—some ten hours later—we were in Kansas City!

Spirits were pretty good on the train. Some of the men amused themselves with pasteboards, others read, while still others dug packages of "goodies" out from their barracks bags. At one point when things were particularly dull, the ex-705th bandsmen, Klocko, Burdizzo and Kelly pepped things up by rendering an impromptu jam session.

But to get back to Camp Howze. We arrived here at 0230 Sunday morning. Then it began. "It's only a short walk to the barracks, fellows," a lean, hard bitten infantry sergeant assured us. So we started out. We picked them up and laid them down for better than an hour. This was all inside the camp, mind you. Finally, after what felt like six miles, but in reality was only about three, we filed into our new homes. Tar paper barracks, two stoves, double deck bunks and there's where we really began to miss Freeman) no sheets.

As far as I understand now, we'll receive six weeks of advanced infantry basic training, consisting mostly of firing the M1 rifle, BAR (Browning Automatic Rifle), carbine, mortars and perhaps bazookas. "Old timers", who have been here two weeks, take great delight in telling us how rugged the training will be. And from a look at the seven-day week schedule, we're not inclined to doubt them.

Six weeks seems to be the amount of time we'll spend in training here, although there is some talk that men of the first three grades will have an additional six weeks' schooling. After that, we'd be guessing. Our first week will consist of screening, physical exams, lectures, orientation and we will be issued all our necessary field equipment.

Texas, this time of year, is cold and muddy. So it looks like the term "mudsluggers" will just about describe us.

Although we're in the infantry inside, we are and probably will be for the rest of our army careers, air corps men. Occasionally a plane will fly overhead. Immediately all necks will crane skyward and along the column you will hear, "It's a B-24. That's a C-47", as several men will try to identify the airplane.

More about us "gravel agitators" next week, but in the meantime, does any one know where we can find a market for some used air corps patches?

tripping the velvet of the backboard, the team from Lockbourne really performed. But that didn't hamper the Ramblers' style, for the brilliant shots of Reason, Prysrock Johnson and Carroll were worth seeing. The final score was Section F 37, Lockbourne 31. A return match is expected in the very near future.

gloom for the Allies due to the continuing push of the Germans southwesterly through Luxembourg and westerly into Belgium. The American First Army was being cut to pieces with many units isolated and threatened with capture. The strong line of the Meuse River was threatened.

Suddenly the miracle man, blood-and-guts Patton, struck with his well known ferocity using all his tanks and self propelled artillery. He folded up the southwesterly prong of Von Rumstedt's counterattack and relieved the largest marooned American group.

At this writing the German counterattack has been stopped at all points and in several areas driven back. The cost to us are the two bridgeheads across the Saar River which General Patton had to give up when he made his timely and saving attack.

Even though the German salients are pushed back to that country's borders, this brilliant Nazi maneuver has given their people a big morale boost. It has set our further penetration of Germany back a good deal.

We must realize now that we are a happy and generous beast who will not give in. Learning that lesson should pay us back for all our losses.

GIs Get Extension In Job Application

Washington (CNS) — Congress has extended the period during which an honorably discharged veteran of this war may apply for his old job from 40 to 90 days. Selective Service regulations have made the time extension retroactive to cover all men who had been discharged within the 90 days prior to Dec. 8 44, the date on which President Roosevelt signed the amendment effecting the change. Disabled veterans who require hospitalization following their discharges may apply for their former jobs within 90 days following completion of hospitalization, providing they do so within a year of leaving the service.

It was their first date and they were both thinking about the same thing. She called it mental telepathy. He called it beginner's luck.

All-Time Bowling Great To Show Here

Frank Benkovic, one of the bowling greats of all time and only bowler in ABC history to win the same championship in successive years, will exhibit his unique pin-toppling skill on the post hardwoods next Thursday and Friday beginning both evenings at 7 p. m.

The two-time ABC doubles champ will cross alleys with officers and enlisted men who will be invited to join him in tempin combat, and will also impart helpful tips on the art of bowling.

A quick glance at Benkovic's record over 15 years of league and tournament competition quickly justifies his reputation as one of the country's leading pinmen. During the 1940-41 season, for example, he compiled a game average of 223 for play in three leagues.

During the course of his entire career, he has rolled 19 perfect games of 300 and has scored 28 games of 299, lacking only one pin of a perfect score.

No bowler in ABC history had ever captured the same title two years running until Frank shared the world's championship doubles crown in 1932 and then came back to win the title again the following year with a new partner. The mark of 1,415 pins which he and fellow-townsmen Gil Zunker of Milwaukee set in annexing the 1933 championship still stands today.

Benkovic started the bowling world again in 1939 when he amassed the towering total of 854 pins in the Milwaukee classic tournament, which is an all-time high for three games in the State of Wisconsin and the fourth highest league series ever bowled in sanctioned leagues in the U. S.

His national ABC average for the last 15 years of tournament competition ending in 1942 is 198.5, achieved on brand new mapleways against new pins.

Competing in the Gold Coast Tournament in Chicago in 1932, he had a mark of 2,259 for nine games, which still stands as the all-time all-events record for recognized competition. He also distinguished himself in the Olympic bowling events in Los Angeles that year, sharing the doubles title with Ollie Rogahn with an individual score of 1,376 for six games.

His appearances here are sponsored by the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co., whose patented range finder he will demonstrate as a device for improving bowling accuracy.

Post Yellowjackets Bow Out In Initial Round of Tourney

Section F obtained a new lease on life in the Eastern Flying Training Command colored basketball tournament here Tuesday night with a series-knotting 37-31 victory over Lockbourne Army Air Base.

Defeated 34-30 last week at Lockbourne, the Ramblers came back with a vengeance in the second game to knot the series at one-all and retain an even chance to compete in the quarter-finals at Maxwell Field, Ala., the first week in February.

Cage Games Top Sport Calendar

Three promising games are on tap for post basketball fans this week as the Post Officers returned to action last night after a layoff of several weeks and the enlisted Yellow-Jackets resume their suicide schedule on the local hardwoods.

Tonight at 8 p. m. the Yellowjackets will play hosts to Atterbury Air Base, while both post teams will see action next Thursday in a doubleheader here with Crane Naval Depot beginning at 7 p. m.

In tonight's attraction, the Yellowjackets face the team responsible for the only mark on the Officers' record to date. The air base five defeated the Officers by a score of 37-27 here early in the season, although the commissioned men later avenged the loss with a 45-36 win in a return match here.

The Officers will meet Crane's Marines in the first half of Thursday's doubleheader while the Yellowjackets will oppose the Navy five in the nightcap. While the Officers have already defeated the Marines twice, the Yellowjackets and Navy split in two previous engagements.

The Officers' margin was considerably smaller in their last

Both the Ramblers and Lockbourne now face Smyrna Army Air Base, Smyrna, Tenn., in two games, with the district representative to be determined by the team with the highest average in the round robin competition.

Hungry for revenge, the Ramblers seized the initiative from the start Tuesday night, leading 8-4 at the quarter and 17-12 at the half. Lockbourne threatened several times after the intermission, but each time Freeman turned back the challenge.

Reason paced the Ramblers' attack with 10 points, while Prysock and McGee contributed eight points each. Mendes had 16 points, Nelson 12, for the visitors.

Meanwhile, the Yellowjackets, post enlisted men's team, bowed out of the EFTC interpost playoffs on the same card, dropping their second straight game to the Lockbourne Fliers.

The contest was almost a repetition of the first game a week ago at Lockbourne, as the half found both teams tied again at 19-all while the final scores varied by only three points.

In both games the Yellowjackets played their opponents on even terms in the first half but melted before the Fliers' greater reserve and withering speed in the final two periods.

THE LEAGUE OF THE SECOND AROUND schedule gets under way with two matches to be rolled.

Section A, first round champions will meet Section B on Alleys 1 and 2, while Section C-1 will oppose Section C-2, first round runnersup, on Alleys 3 and 4, both matches commencing at 7 p. m.

Other league entries will roll their initial matches of the second round next Monday when Section C-3 will face the challenge of the Wacs and the Medics will lock horns with Pac 5. Pac 6 will see first action next Friday, opposing Section A.

The team with the highest percentage of games won at the conclusion of the schedule will be named second round champions and will meet Section A in a playoff for the season title.

Matches will be rolled Mondays commencing at 8 p. m. and Fridays beginning at 7 p. m. through March 5. Three games will constitute a match, with each game to figure in the standings.

Three 'Old Settlers' Depart For A-26 Flying Training

Another trio of old faces were missed at Freeman Field this week as Maj. Robert J. DuChaine, Lts. Woodrow J. Lane and William C. Weldon departed for training in the operation of the A-26, new medium type bomber, at Columbia, S. C.

Maj. DuChaine's position as post operations officer is taken by Lt. Donald M. Bowers, who formerly held the title of assistant operations officer. No assistant to Lt. Bowers has been named.

Maj. DuChaine's youthful appearance belies his experience as a flying officer. Completing primary training at Spartan School of Aeronautics, Muskogee, Okla., he moved on to Randolph Field, officer, received his introduction to flying as a civilian pilot, receiving his private license five days after entering the service on January 28, 1942. Following primary training at Dorr Field, Arcadia, Fla., basic at Shaw Field, Sumter, S. C., and advanced at Turner Field, Ga., he was commissioned in January, 1943. After attending Central Instructor's School at Maxwell Field, Ala., he returned to Turner Field for two months in the capacity of an instructor.

On April 25, 1943, Lt. Bowers came to Freeman Field. His first assignment here was as an instructor after which he became operations officer and commanding officer of Flight 4. He was appointed assistant post operations September 28, 1944.

A native of Lime Springs, Iowa, Lt. Bowers was graduated from Lime Springs High School in 1933 and attended Iowa State Teachers' College at Cedar Falls. While in high school he received athletic

Freemanites on Fighting Fronts

Capt. William R. Kearney
While at Freeman Capt. Kearney was commanding officer of the old 1080th Squadron. He left early in 1943 and reported to an overseas replacement center in Utah. Letters from the captain have been few and far between but it is generally believed that he is "somewhere" in the European theatre of operations.

W/O Edward P. Sundburg
"Gus" was one of the first enlisted men to arrive at Freeman and served here for many months as post sergeant major. He was later appointed warrant officer. Friends received letters from Sundburg in Italy, but more recently he was supposed to have been transferred to Calcutta, India.

705th Band

In the holiday muddle, it seems as if dates, time and the band columns were completely forgotten. Let's hope this starts an unending line of weekly columns until some irreplaceable force forces us to vacate, huh?

This time the news will be on the sad side, we're afraid - - - kinda like reading a casualty list. The reason for this morbid tone is the fact that "higher headquarters" saw fit to vacate several of the more popular beds in the barracks.

The shipping list read: Sgt. Erwin, Klocko, Cpl. Robert Kelly, Cpl. Sidney Levinstein, Ptes. Patsy Burdizny, Norman Corey, Leroy Gentry, Norbert Johnson, Max Sprunger and Alfred Stair. These men were shipped to the Army Ground Forces in the recent call for men.

Not only did we lose some of our best friends to the A.G.F., but one of the worst pests also left with them.

Yes, our dear Sgt. Radian is wandering around all by himself now - no remarks about his receding hairline, or incapacities, or slanderous remarks about his beautiful piano etudes - the "hairless one", Sgt. Ed. Squitter, has gone the way of all sinners (Oh, how we hope he reads this). To those who have left we May 1941 received his wings and commission as a second lieutenant at Barksdale Field, La. He remained at Barksdale as an instructor and later was assigned to Columbus, Miss.

He came to Freeman in February, 1943, and served as a flight commander and member of the advisory training board until he became post operations officer in June, 1943. He performed the duties of deputy for training and operations for a time following the transfer of Lt. Col. William B. Poe last September, but recently returned to his old duties.

Born in Levering, Mich., in January, 1918, he was graduated from Petoskey High School in 1936, where he won prominence in football, basketball, track and hockey and in his senior year received the "best athlete" award. He took post graduate work at Ann Arbor High School and later attended the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and Michigan Tech, Houghton.

Lt. Lane was a member of the advisory training board here, while Lt. Weldon was a flying instructor.

PAC Status

Training Command was directed to release approximately 5,000 permanent party members to the army ground forces. The utilization of "on-the-line" trainees for permanent party duties will partially make up that loss, it was explained.

Gen. Yount's statement, which was addressed to "on-the-line" trainees, declared that the men, regardless of their ultimate assignment, will retain their status as "pre-aircrew" trainees and will enter pre-flight training on schedule.

"As a member of permanent party you will not be transferred out of this command unless you request relief from aircrew status to enter gunnery or technical training, leading to combat crew assignment or become disqualified for aircrew training," the general said.

"By serving in the permanent party you will release an enlisted man for a combat assignment where his experience and training are urgently needed. From your own standpoint this temporary change will give you an opportunity to acquire valuable military skills while sharing in all the rights and privileges accorded to permanent party personnel."

Gen. Gravely reiterated that the transfer of "on-the-line" trainees to permanent party will not alter their position or priority to enter pre-flight.

"These men will be retrans-ferred and will enter pre-flight in proper turn according to the number of weeks since they were classified for aircrew training," Gen. Gravely added. "While in permanent party, this personnel will be eligible for any promotions available and are assignable to any appropriate permanent party duties."

The transfer order does not apply to enlisted men returned from combat, individuals who will reach the age of 27 years and six months prior to June 1, 1945, and former civilian flying instructors.

miss you. It was a good band, wasn't it?

P.A.C. News

Christmas was exceedingly merry, and New Year's brought forth an uproarious celebration. And now that the clamor has ceased, each of us will try to resume those duties we performed in pre-holiday times. With the abundance of Milk of Magnesia and Alka Seltzer on hand, it should take no more than one week to clear our turbulent minds.

Our detachment was mighty empty over the New Year's week end, most of the fellows diverting themselves in either Cincinnati or Indianapolis.

"Pappy" Wirs spent the holidays in St. Louis. I believe he does some sort of business there. They tell me the Judge is well aware of the typewriter shortage, so he brings his own to one particular customer who pays him 15c per hour for its use. With all the money he makes, I wonder why the Judge doesn't go out every week to raise Cain. Someday, Silas, I'm going to tear up the flooring under your bed.
