

Col. Harold Bond Directs 117th Infantry

When the going gets tough in the maneuver area of the 30th Division, the 117th Infantry Regiment composed largely of Tennesseans is usually called on for action. The picture shows the field headquarters of Colonel R. H. Bond of Jackson, commanding officer of the regiment, conferring with officers at the start of a new phase of the maneuvers. From left to right, the officers are Capt. Guy R. Windrom, division public relations officer; Major Abner U. Taylor, regimental supply officer; Lt. Col. Hugh I. Mainord, regimental executive; Col. Bond; Capt. Leonard S. Helm, regimental intelligence officer. All are from Jackson, Tenn.

1941-11-03 Col Harold Bond directs 117 INF

Clipped By:

criswest

Tue, Nov 28, 2017