

Tank Protects Battling 30th Division Troops

Infantrymen of the U. S. Ninth army's famous 30th division advance along a dirt road with the protection of a tank during the battle for Stautsforst, Germany, March 25. The 30th division includes many soldiers from North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee. Known as the "Old Hickory" division in World War I, the 30th played a big part in smashing the Hindenburg line just before Armistice day in 1918. (AP Wirephoto from Signal Corps Radiophoto).
