

"Private Ford was an automatic rifleman in a patrol which was assigned to the mission of entering enemy territory to capture a prisoner and locate enemy positions. As the patrol was moving forward, a vehicle was heard approaching. Private Ford and his companions quickly took concealed positions to ambush the vehicle. In the brief fight which ensued one enemy soldier was wounded, another enlisted man and officer captured and a reconnaissance car destroyed.

"The heroic actions of Private Ford and his companions were responsible for providing their unit with information which permitted the destruction of several enemy positions with artillery fire.
